LIMA CHIROS TO RESIST FINES

Practitioners Here Will Go to Jail Instead

EXPECTED TO BE ARRESTED

Statewide Move is Protest Against Ohio Law

Lima chiropractors will go to jail rather than pay a $500 fine for practicing medicine without a license, Dr. Glenn V. John asserted Friday. In this he was backed by every chiropractor in the city. It was announced.

This is a protest against the manner in which the state medical board gives the examination, making it practically impossible for a chiropractor to pass, Dr. B. E. Swem said.

One reason for the non-payment of fines is that all money so collected goes to the state medical board for the prosecution of other chiropractors, Dr. Paul S. Lerner asserted.

While one or more of the Lima chiropractors has passed the state examination and will not come under the penalty of the law, it is said that all will stand together in protest against the measure.

Chiropractors in this city who will come to some degree under the law are: Glen V. John, H. W. Meier, B. E. Swem, H. L. Wurmsler, E. Hadsell, Paul S. Lerner, and Theresa L. Lerner.

Arrest of local chiropractors will come soon, they believe, and unless some definite action is taken by the state legislature in regard to a new examination board for chiropractors, those found guilty will go to jail, they assert.

WILL RESIST FINES
COLUMBUS — (United Press) — Ohio chiropractors prepared today to go to jail rather than pay fines for practicing medicine without a license.

"A few more days under the present system and hundreds of Ohio chiropractors will be behind the bars," said Dr. C. B. Dickinson, of the state chiropractors' organization.

"We are going to receive justice at the hands of the state medical board or get a separate board of chiropractors to examine us," he declared.

Four chiropractors already are serving jail sentences at Canton, in default of $500 fines. It will take them three years to serve out their fines.

Dr. Dickinson declared the movement would result in hundreds of imprisonments and probably initiation of legislation creating a separate board of chiropractor examiners.

"That was the result of a similar demonstration in California last year," he said. "Legislation passed to our protest, and the fines were reduced to $100."

START FOR JAIL
CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — Arrangement of Albert J. Schnucke, Miss Mary Jane Galt and Mrs. Florence E. Blodgett, on charges of practicing chiropractic without a license was set for today.

Schnucke is president and Mrs. Galt is secretary of the Ohio State Chiropractic Association.

The women declared if they are convicted they will "go to jail rather than pay the $500 fine. Five chiropractors convicted on the charge yesterday were slated to be taken to the Warrensville workhouse today to begin working out $25 fines and costs, which will take forty-one days.

Hearings of chiropractors are also scheduled at Girard and Niles.

At the time the local chiropractors were on trial in municipal court yesterday, four Canton men, convicted of practicing without a license were taken to the Canton workhouse, where they chose to go rather than pay $500 fines.

DEFIANT AT YOUNGSTOWN
YOUNGSTOWN — (Associated Press) — Ten of the seventeen chiropractors arrested here on charges of practicing medicine without a license today announced they would serve jail terms rather than pay fines if they are convicted. Hearings will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week.

DAUGHTERY IMPEACHMENT CASE DEFINITELY CLOSED
WASHINGTON — The impeachment brought against Attorney General Daugherty by Representative Keler, Republican, Minnesota, was regarded today as a definitely closed incident following approval by the house of the action of its judiciary committee in giving the attorney general a clean bill of health on the charges.

REVOLUTIONARY IDEAS ADOPTED BY MINISTER

THE REV. PERCY STICKNEY GRANT AND MRS. RITA H. deALBA

Fighting Career of Dr. Grant Brought Out in Religious Controversy

(BY ALEXANDER HERMAN)

NEW YORK. — (Special) — What is ahead in religion? A militant ministry patterned after the spectacular and revolutionary leadership of Dr. Percy Stickney Grant?

Or must this meteor among preachers stand trial for heresy for his declaration that Christ did not have the power of God?

These questions grow enormously in interest as the religious world waits to see whether Dr. Grant recants, resigns or is tried according to his Episcopal bishop's ultimatum.

Dr. Grant has held the center of the spotlight through a tempestuous career—fighting church doctrines, and fighting a personal fight to marry Mrs. Rita H. deAlba deAlba Lydig, twice married and twice divorced.

His notable book of poems, "A Fifth Avenue Parade and Other Poems," published last year by Harper & Bros., had this dedication: "To Rita H. deAlba deAlba Lydig, an ambitious and stimulating intelligence gifted with a knowledge of the beautiful, a Tanagra figure came to life, a captivating companion."

The sequel to these chapters of his life remains to be written.

CHAPTER I
Percy Stickney Grant was 28 years old when he graduated in 1886 from the Episcopal Theological School at Boston, his home. Assigned to Fall River his ideas about running the church were somewhat different from those of the vestry.

But his social service work attracted attention and he earned a call to the Church of the Ascension, New York. He came in 1893, but only on condition that pews be free and that the church be open every day—two revolutionary ideas at that time.

CHAPTER II
In New York Dr. Grant became known as a friend of the working man. In 1907 he organized a public forum in the church. By 1919 he had had clashes with conservatives in the vestry, who organized a committee to investigate his "teaching doctrine contrary to the doctrine of the church." There was talk of a heresy trial. Nothing came of it.

CHAPTER III
Storms multiplied. He compared the deportation of Russian anarchists to the Pilgrims, their ship to the Mayflower. He attacked legislative plans to curb radicals. Bishop Thomas P. Gailor called him "a pampered pet of a group of rich men and women who pose as a friend of the poor." Grant shrugged his shoulders and went on.

CHAPTER IV
Talk came of putting him on trial in an ecclesiastical court for celebrating communion improperly, for

DR. GRANT STICKS TO HIS GUNS

New York Rector Refuses to Recant or Resign

NEW YORK — (United Press) — Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, whose denial of the divinity of Christ caused Bishop Manning to demand that he recant or resign the ministry of his fashionable Fifth-av Church of the Ascension, placed in the hands of his superior today a lengthy reply, in which he declined to do either.

As his friends had predicted, Dr. Grant stuck to his guns, reiterating his belief that Christ did not have the powers of God. He declined to accept Jesus' walking upon water, or existence of a hell beneath the earth. But he asked:

"Because I have interpreted the apostles' creed in the light of accumulated knowledge, must I abandon my ministry and be ejected from the church I love in order to do this?"

Churchmen awaited today the next move of Bishop Manning, believing he would request two clergymen of the Episcopal Church to bring charges of heresy against Dr. Grant upon which a trial would be based.

SEEK TO CUT RED TAPE IN CRIMINAL PROCEDURE
COLUMBUS — Prosecution of criminal cases in Ohio courts will be considerably speeded up if suggestions of the State Association of Common Pleas Judges of Ohio, which closed its convention here Thursday night, are followed by the state legislature.

The association adopted a comprehensive legislative program designed to cut out much of the "red tape" in criminal procedure and will recommend to the legislature that laws and amendments to the criminal code be passed to carry out the suggested changes.

WHAT GRANT DENIES
NEW YORK — (United Press) — Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, in his letter to Bishop Manning, denied:

That Christ actually walked on the water.

That physical resurrection of bodies from the dead is possible.

That Christ, after his crucifixion, descended into a flaming hell into the center of the earth.

That Christ had the power of God; citing that he prayed, and that prayer would have been unnecessary had he possessed God's power.

The miracles which violated all natural laws, could not have occurred.

WAR IS FEARED IN U. S. POLICY

Views of Some Senators Relative to Aloffness

ACTION IN EUROPE SOUGHT

Borah Again to Introduce Conference Resolution

(BY LAURENCE MARTIN)
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — The senate is on the eve of another wide open discussion of international relations.

Definite expressions of senatorial opinion that this government ought not to remain longer aloof seem certain to be forthcoming.

Many of both parties believe the Franco-German situation should not be permitted to develop to its logical conclusion.

That conclusion, many senators fear, will be war, or if not that, an accentuation of present world turmoil which will still further depress American markets, curtail American industry and hurt the farmer immeasurably.

WILL OFFER RESOLUTION
Administration leaders admitted today they would not be surprised to see the senate adopt Senator Borah's resolutions for an international conference, which Borah today announced he would reintroduce, probably next Monday.

Borah will present it in the same form as when he offered it as an amendment to the naval appropriation bill, some weeks ago. He withdrew it then, when assured by administration spokesmen that its addition would embarrass the administration in pursuance of its policy.

It is evident Borah holds that the administration policy is entirely negative. Public opinion, he declared today, is overwhelmingly against such a policy now. The American people, Borah said, want their government to wield its tremendous influence in an effort to straighten out the snarl which France's action and general disagreement over reparations has created.

HUGHES' VIEWS
The impending senatorial debate may be brought on by Secretary Hughes' statement that Lord Boydston, the status and activities of Roland A. Boydston, American unofficial representative on the reparations commission.

Hughes whole letter, as hastily analyzed by senators, was regarded as showing conclusively that Lord Boydston, he and this government were careful to repeat that he was there unofficially, nevertheless occupied a position virtually as influential as the he had been an official with the single exception that he has no vote on the foreign relations committee.

Today met to take up the Hughes letter and a number of confidential documents submitted by the secretary. It was considered doubtful that the committee would get around today to acting on the Robinson resolution to give Boydston international status.

His resolution called forth the Hughes statement.

GERMAN LUXURY BAN ASKED
The German government has issued an appeal to the nation, signed by President Ebert and Chancellor Cuno, urging the people to renounce luxuries and extravagances of every kind and to make the greatest possible sacrifice "in view of the common need of the whole country, which involves the very existence of all future Germany and the liberties and rights of the whole people."

Leading industrial and commercial firms have issued a similar appeal to employers and workers.

Meanwhile the government has been brought face to face with a deficit of between one trillion three hundred billion and one trillion six hundred billion marks.

The departure of the American troops from the Rhineland is marked by the universal regret of the German people.

BOARD OF REVIEW BEGINS WORK ON REVISION OF TAX
Members of the board of review, clothed with authority to revise tax laws downward when property owners convince them that the assessment is too high, will meet daily at the court house.

Harry E. Botkins, county treasurer; John Thompson, president of the county board, and C. R. Phillips, county auditor, compose the board. The board met with taxpayers at Bluffton Friday.

CLEARING SQUARE OF GERMANS

Here are shown French cavalry detachments holding back the crowds at one side of the Essen square in front of the city hall where French generals conferred with the civil authorities.

'Cu Clux Klan' Women To Raid 'Leggers' Dens

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — (United Press) — "Ladies of the Ku Klux Klan" announced today new raids on bootleggers' dens would be staged in an effort to clean up vice conditions in the southwest.

The raids will be carried out in the afternoons, so members of the Ku Klux Klan can return home "in time to put the dinner on," they declared.

"They are insistent that the work of purifying the country is theirs and should be done by them if authorities are unable to cope with the situation," F. C. Barefield, grand mizer of the Oklahoma division, said.

"We expect full cooperation in prosecuting the offenders from city, county and federal authorities, because we are acting only in the capacity of interested citizens. Our work will consist entirely of securing evidence and seeing that authorities prosecute the law breakers."

HIT AT RUM FLOW
Check on Leak in "Embassy" Liquor is Planned

WASHINGTON — The problem of stopping alleged leaks of "embassy" liquor into the bootleg trade here appeared today to be still holding the close attention of prohibition officials. In the formulation of plans so far to cope with the situation, two means have been indicated by officials as promising the best results.

Where diversion into bootleg channels of liquor brought in under diplomatic immunity might be found to involve any minor employee of an embassy or legation, it has been indicated by Acting Prohibition Commissioner Jones that he would make representations to the diplomat in charge with a view to bringing about the employee's dismissal and the subsequent prosecution under the prohibition laws.

Also here is being considered a plan of voluntary cooperation by prohibition authorities with estimates of their liquor requirements over a specific period.

DR. REIMSCH DEAD
SHANGHAI — Dr. Paul Reimsch, formerly American minister of China and later counsellor to the Chinese government, died here today after a protracted illness.

LINE OF BAYONETS FIXED BY FRENCH

Coal Supply to Outside Germany Completely Cut Off

WARLIKE ATTITUDE ASSUMED

Reinforcement of Troops is Ordered by Paris

DUESSELDORF — (Associated Press) — Burgomaster Schmidt and Dr. Oesle, director of police of Duesseeldorf, were arrested by the French authorities today and placed in jail awaiting court-martial for failure to enforce order. They are charged with being responsible for yesterday's disorders which the French troops put down only after the firing of several shots.

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — A state of siege has been proclaimed in the Aix La Chapelle and Krouznach districts by the French occupational authorities as the result of yesterday's demonstration, according to the correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt at Aix La Chapelle.

(BY CARL D. GROAT)
ESSEN — (United Press) — France today ordered her steel ring around the Ruhr hermetically sealed as punishment for outbreaks of violence against French troops in various parts of the occupied zone.

The blockade line ran thru Dortmund, Cuxdorf and Rucklinghausen, in an arc of bayonets past which no coal was permitted to move. Troops were moved up to reinforce the customs line; guards were placed on railway lines; all night long French cavalry clattered thru the streets of Essen; troop movements were partly shielded by censorship; everything was quiet at dawn.

No fuel whatever is to be permitted to pass from the mines of the Ruhr valley to German sources outside, according to French reports.

Simultaneously with this reported restriction, French guns, tanks and machine guns were pointed at the towns about Essen and Duesseeldorf, cities whose people showed signs of physical resistance to the invasion.

From passive sabotage, the Ruhr mood turned to petty violence, severely restrained. French cavalry was moved up to charge a crowd at Duesseeldorf, and two Germans were trampled. At Essen last night there was a succession of rows between overheated civilians and French patrols, in which stones were hurled by the crowd. Bloodshed was averted only by the restraint shown by the troops.

Following the return of Fritz Thyssen and the industrialists from Mayence there were further demonstrations.

FRENCH TO STAY
General Weygand, Marshal Foch's chief of staff, held a meeting with commanders of the army of occupation, and it was permitted to be definitely understood that the French are here to stay "not months, but years, if necessary."

Burgomaster Gail, police director of Mayence, where rioting occurred, Wednesday night, were ordered expelled, together with their families for failure to stop the anti-French demonstrations.

Coal shipments to Germany from the Ruhr, which have been permitted by the French at some points to prevent a general strike, will be interrupted completely after today, it was indicated.

In the face of further coercion, Germany is reported stealing herself for privation, a government appeal calling upon all good citizens to give up luxuries for the common need of the whole country.

MAY DECLINE MARTIAL LAW DUESSELDORF
DUESSELDORF — (Associated Press) — Desultory rifle firing which was in progress in various parts of the city thruout the evening, ceased at a late hour when French cavalry and infantry patrols cleared the streets. At midnight Duesseeldorf was outwardly calm.

Whenever and wherever the French rifles spoke, the populace scampered to cover.

A heavy rain which began to fall at 10 o'clock also dampened the hellish ardor of the German patriots.

The French, however, are under no illusion as to the seriousness of the situation and two more army corps are being rushed from Alsace-Lorraine.

Martial law may be declared immediately should there be any attempt to repeat the manifestations of last evening.

The telegraph service was resumed at 8 o'clock last night but the railroad strike is still effective. The Duesseeldorf disturbance centered around the Briedenbacher hotel which has been practically requisitioned for the French officers. The latter display much courage under the taunts and insults heaped upon them. One colonel disarmed his aide to camp who had drawn a revolver and was ready to fire upon the crowd.

"You wait my orders before shooting," the colonel told his aide. The latter reluctantly obeyed, but muttered "you will never make anything out of these people unless they fear you." The sentiment on this subject evidently has been accepted by higher officials and after this gathering of the thunderbolts there is apparent a resolve to make it a real military occupation.

BRITISH CABINET MEETS

LONDON — (United Press). — Great Britain regards the Ruhr situation as serious, and Premier Bonar Law, for one, is understood to favor immediate withdrawal of British troops from the Rhine.

The cabinet met today, once more to consider withdrawal, and only intense desire to avoid a further split in the sentence with the French prevents immediate orders to the effect that all Rhine troops come home.

Decision probably will be against withdrawal because it is felt that would increase Germany's truculence, but there is no question but that Britain views with increasing alarm disturbances in the Ruhr such as those at Dusseldorf and Essen last night.

British sympathy is unquestionably with France. German stupidity and "unfathomability" is blamed for the fiasco.

FRENCH DIFFERENCES

PARIS — (Associated Press). — Announcement of General Weygand's appointment as high commissioner in the Ruhr is now said on good authority to be waiting for the French cabinet to conciliate differences which have arisen over the selection of an officer not directly under the war office for so important a post. It is understood that Premier Poincaré chose General Weygand because he was recommended by Marshal Foch who is still regarded as the head of the inter-allied forces.

The majority of the cabinet is with the premier in holding that the Ruhr occupation is not distinctly a French action but an allied operation and therefore properly under the direction of an inter-allied organization.

The movement of French troops so far as they alone are concerned, will remain under the direction of the French war office and Marshal Pétain and Foch, and General DeGoutte. General Weygand's mission will be to coordinate the French and Belgian action.

GERMANY'S PLEA REJECTED

PARIS — (United Press). — The allied reparation commission today rejected Germany's appeal for a moratorium by a vote of 3 to 1 and proclaimed Germany in general default of reparations.

American observer Hayden did not speak.

Louis Barthou, French representative withdrew France's moratorium plan and the commission decided to notify the allied government of German defaults.

France, Italy and Belgium voted against a moratorium and the British member was in favor of it.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. BROILLIER, SUNDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Jane Broillier, 65, wife of William Broillier, 922 Birch-av., who died Thursday night at her home after an illness of one year, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. from the residence. Burial in Fisher's cemetery.

Mrs. Broillier was born in Knox-co., Kentucky, but had made her home in Lima for several years.

Besides the husband, she survived by three sons, Arthur L. and Harvey O. Broillier of Lima and Walter L. Broillier of Alexandria, Louisiana.

BANKER WILL ADMINISTER $10,500 WURMSER ESTATE

C. M. Tolson, of the Lima Trust company, is executor of the $10,500 estate of the late Delphi T. Wurms, who died in Los Angeles, December 5. Appointment was made Friday by Judge J. H. Hamilton in probate court. All of the property is situated in Allen-co.

Provisions of the will create a trust for Frank J. Wurms, Los Angeles, her husband. He will receive the interest during his lifetime. Frank T. Wurms, a minor, will become the ultimate heir. H. P. Dean, B. B. Apples and C. W. Dattoy were named to appraise the property.

permitting laymen to speak at religious services, and for performing the marriage of a guilty divorcee. But the case was dropped—with a rebuke and a warning for Dr. Grant.

Now came the time when he was to fight a personal fight—and lose.

CHAPTER V

Mrs. Rita H. deAlba deAcosta Lydig, called "America's most picturesque woman," long a friend of Dr. Grant, announced her engagement to him in 1921. She was 42, he was 61. She had been twice married and twice divorced; first W. E. D. Stokes, next Philip M. Lydig.

Under Episcopal Church rules Dr. Grant could not marry Mrs. Lydig without the bishop's permission. Bishop William T. Manning refused permission.

Innocent, Dr. Grant, attacked the church's attitude on divorce. Result, passage of a more vigorous amendment to the divorce canon.

CHAPTER VI

Publicly spotlighted now bathed Dr. Grant in a new way. A baby girl was found on his doorstep, abandoned. He took it into his bachelor household, established a nursery, hired a nurse, and announced he would raise the child. He baptized her "Faith Willard."

One of her four godmothers was Mrs. Lydig. Soon the baby became ill. She died at night. The rector placed the floor with her in vain. The fading infant was taken to the country to save her life.

But she died in the Presbyterian hospital. The body was buried in the graveyard of Dr. Grant's church.

CHAPTER VII

Sorrow stifled Dr. Grant's pulpit voice for a time. Soon he renewed his fight against the church's stand on marriage and divorce.

He said: "If marriage is founded on the affections of two persons for each other, as marriage in America is supposed to be, with the disappearance of such sentiment disappears the only ground for the marriage."

He had been advocating easy divorce since 1916.

CHAPTER VIII

With 1923 came the explosion. Dr. Grant said, in a sermon Jan. 14, that Jesus Christ did not possess equal powers with God; that His miracles can be explained today by science; that consecration of churches is a custom inherited from the age of witchcraft, a magic and taboo; that the clergy is a suppressed chained profession whose members speak their minds outside the pulpit, never in it.

Bishop Manning served an ultimatum that he must recant or resign, and hinting at a trial for heresy.

Dr. Grant has neither resigned nor recanted.

GIRL RECOVERS FROM ATTEMPT TO END LIFE

Miss Cleona Workman, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Workman, 618 E. Elm-st., was removed to her home last Friday afternoon from the City hospital, where she was taken after an attempt to end her life by taking poison.

Members of the family stated that a quarrel with her sweetheart, Glenn Schrieker, 19, of Spencerville, was the cause of her attempt at self destruction.

Schrieker was at her bedside while she was confined in the hospital.

HUSBAND LAVISHED MONEY ON ANOTHER, WIFE ASSERTS

Charging that Frank A. Telford, midnight, led a double life and lavished his affections and money on another woman, Mrs. Bertha Telford, 805 N. Metcalf, filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Friday. The couple were married in Lima in 1910. Telford is now at Toledo state hospital, the petition states. Supplementary charges contained in the petition are, neglect and cruelty.

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin J. Lee, N. Union-st., announce the arrival of a nine pound son, born January 21. The new arrival has been named Elvin Jr.

PAROLE VIOLATED

Howard Mitchell Returned to Mansfield Reformatory

Howard Mitchell, Lima youth, held in the county jail at Kenton, on a charge of larceny, in connection with the robbery of the Kraus & Rice jewelry store in that city, was taken to the Mansfield reformatory Friday.

After the escape of his pal, Eugene Flanagan, also from Lima, from the county jail at Kenton, Mitchell was cleared of a charge of burglary, but was immediately rearrested on a charge of larceny.

J. B. Brown, parole officer from the Mansfield reformatory, investigated Mitchell's case and he was returned to Mansfield for violation of his parole, having admitted riding freight trains and trespassing on railroad property.

Mitchell was originally sent up from Kenton, on a charge of robbery. Hardin-co. officials released him to the parole officer rather than hold him prisoner until the next grand jury session.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 639 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

EXPENSES PAID BY BOOTLEG FINES

Scores of Ohio Cities Saved from Financial Ruin

VILLAGES REAP BIG HARVEST

Over $2,000,000 Collected as Result of Liquor Raids

COLUMBUS.—(United Press).—Bootleg fines are saving scores of Ohio cities from financial ruin. "Illicit Whisky Money" is building schools, replenishing depleted municipal funds and in several villages during the last twelve months has amounted to more than double the total regular tax collections. During that time, Ohioans paid more than two million dollars in fines for violation of state and federal liquor laws. They paid many thousands of dollars more for violating local liquor laws. More than three-quarters of a million dollars of the total amount collected on state and federal violations was turned over to municipalities, in addition to the large amounts they collected on local law violation. Some towns paid firemen's salaries from liquor fines and others "put their money back into the business" by employing detectives to secure evidence on a commission basis. RAIDED CITY SALOONS Several small villages on the outskirts of larger cities got rich raiding the saloons of the cities and bringing those arrested to justice in village courts. The most striking example of this practice was Millford, a Cincinnati suburb of 1500 inhabitants. Mayor M. B. Scott faced a gloomy prospect of operating the village's government on a tax income which would be $37,420, if everybody paid up. Smith then began a series of raids on Cincinnati saloons that inside of a year netted his village $154,432—four times the total taxes. Streets were repaired, the light plant run continuously again and a large surplus was left in the general fund. The Mayor now plans to allow the school board to appropriate money from the whiskey fines for a new school building and auditorium. Few of the larger cities of the state took advantage of their opportunities to reap a lucrative harvest from liquor law enforcement. But the villages were over on the alert to enforce dry laws to the limit. A BACKYARD COURT A backyard court on the edge of Toledo paid Adams township $24,000 all of which went to road repair and other expenses. The court was operated by Justice of the Peace Tremblay in a shed just across the city boundary. Tremblay employed a "sponge squad" of four men and Adams township trustees now boast they will soon have the best roads in Lucas county. A new town hall, jail and fire station will be built in Fairview, just out of Cleveland, from fines collected by Justice Gelman. Albert W. Farren, "traying mayor" of East Palestine, near Youngstown, brought his village $25,000 in liquor fines. He personally lead most of the raids and always prayed fervently before starting out. Altho several towns are opposed to using whiskey money to building improvements, Ashland frankly announced stiff fines for dry law violations, for the express purpose of recouping its finances. "CASCARETS" 10c FOR BOWELS IF CONSTIPATED Clean your bowels! Feel fine! When you feel sick, dizzy, upset, when your head is dull or aching, or your stomach is sour or gassy, just take one or two Cascarets to relieve constipation. No gripping—noest cathartic—noest on earth for grown-up and children. 10c a box. "Ta-ta like candy"—Ady.

VICTIMS OF DOPE MOSTLY MEN

Few Women Become Addicts, Expert on Sociology Says

MALES WORST GAMBLERS

Females Have More Self-Control, Wisconsin Professor Thinks

MADISON, Wis.—(United Press)—Man is the handicapped half of humanity. Man's pugnacity, his tendency to pick a fight, a trait not possessed by the female of the species, is becoming a menace to the existence of the whole human race.

This is the view of B. A. Ross, globe-trotter, author of a score of books on sociology, and professor of sociology in the University of Wisconsin.

The instinct of pugnacity developed along the lines of warfare bids fair to wipe the race out of existence, Ross believes.

"Our gentle friends, the army militarists, depict how our country will send immense fleet of airplanes dropping bombs which will poison the whole enemy populations with their gas. The militarists of each of the other great powers plan to do the same thing to us, in case we should be the enemy."

"So the next war conjures up the picture of the great fleets of airplanes returning each to its country after having done a first-class job in exterminating the other people and finding nobody able to erect them."

"Let us hope that these fleets will include some women aviators so that the national flock will not completely disappear."

Ross concludes from his observations in countries all over the world that women have a distinctive trait—the life-saving instinct, which is more salutary and beneficial in mankind evolved into a state of dependence of the individual on society.

Studying opium-smokers in China, Ross found that in every case there were more men opium-smokers than women. In the United States, the same is true of excess indulgence in strong drink.

WOMEN NOT GAMBLERS

"Years ago in Wyoming I saw a young cowboy lose half his month's wages in half an hour at the faro table. Since then I have asked at least fifty persons whether they had ever seen a working woman gamble away her wages, and I have not had an affirmative answer," Ross said.

"In October 1917, when the fate of a Russian officer with his men was on a hair-trigger, I saw a Russian officer deliberately kill himself up with home-brew, knowing perfectly well that it would make a beast of him, which it did."

"I never find women doing such foolish things. It seems to me they have more self-control than men. The only way we men can dodge this unpalatable inference is by pretending that woman's hankering is weak, as Tenneyson did."

"Woman is the weaker man and all the passions matched with mine are as moonlight unto sunlight; and as water unto wine."

WOMEN DO THEIR DUTY

"But they can't put this fiction across because women show grip on themselves all along the line. Into whatever part of the world I have gone, I have found the women doing their duty, as they say it, better than the men were doing their duty."

Ross reaches the conclusion that modern warfare has furnished man with implements with which he will speedily kill off the race, if allowed to fight as much as he pleases.

"It is precisely like a child playing with matches in a powder magazine. He inherited an instinctive pugnacity established in him tens of thousands of years ago when men had nothing to fight with but stones and clubs, and now he finds himself able to loose at will appalling forces of destruction."

150,000 CAMP FIRE GIRLS IN THE UNITED STATES

NEW YORK—There are 150,000 Camp Fire Girls in the United States and Camp Fire groups in 17 foreign countries, according to the annual report of the organization for 1922.

Among the schools that have added a Camp Fire course to the curriculum are: University of Southern California, Northwestern University, University of Kansas, Colorado State Teachers' College, Cornell University, Syracuse University, Kansas State Agricultural College, Louisiana State Normal School of Physical Education, Southern Methodist University, College of Puget Sound, University of Omaha.

In several cities a Camp Fire Worker has been put on the staff of the public schools to supervise the Camp Fire work, thereby making it the recreation program of the school. Training course certificates were awarded to 1,600 women.

PHONE PLANT DAMAGED

The Mutual Telephone exchange at Ottawa was slightly damaged by fire.

HOBOLABOR COLLEGE IS OPENED AT PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Hobo Labor College, Philadelphia's newest institute of higher learning, has thrown open its doors and classes are being conducted twice a week.

A. J. Carey is chancellor, president, dean of men and faculty to the combined freshman-sophomore-junior-senior class of seventy-five students.

"Prexy" Carey, as he is familiarly known, gave an inaugural address on "The Superficial Inadequacies of the Present Political-Economical System," when the college opened.

Outlining some of the factors that have contributed to the present unhappiness of those who do not care to work, Carey asserted that the time would come when the wealth of the country should be divided among those who attended the college and their friends.

At the conclusion of all his lectures, Carey announced that cigarettes would be passed to the students and that beef-stew, coffee and cakes will be served to those who desire refreshments.

SCENARIO WRITER VALUED HIGHLY

Picture Producing Company Insures Miss Mathis for $1,000,000

(BY JACK JUNGMEYER)
LOS ANGELES — (Special) — A good many people have a million dollars, but not many are accounted worth a million to an employer. June Mathis is.

When Goldwyn Pictures made her editorial director recently, that's what they insured her life for, as a sort of replacement valuation.

Although celebrated as a scenarist, Miss Mathis regards herself as a working woman. She isn't temperamental. Or, if she is, she has her temper under her own control — perfectly.

SHE DOESN'T THREATEN
"Even the directors," she says,

"become my friends when I didn't rave because sometimes they thought best to alter my pet scenes. I fight for what I consider important, but I don't bluff and puff and threaten to blow the house down."

Miss Mathis supervises the selection and progress of pictures. She sits with directors on the set and in projection room. She titles and she edits and she helps to cut.

It's a job many high-salaried men have failed at.

"When I gave up the stage ten years ago to enter this field," she explains, "I saw that adaption of famous plays and books was a weak spot in the industry. Nobody wanted to do such work—not romantic enough."

NOT BAD INTEREST

So it was a branch of the business in which Miss Mathis specialized. The result is that she draws now more than $55,000 a year—not a bad rate of interest on $1,000,000—for duties that others considered beneath them.

She has wide cheeks, full gray eyes and what she frankly calls "fat, to nourish the nerves." Her poise is perfect. She gives the impression of tremendous reserves of energy.

Her famous "Four Horsemen," "Blood and Sand" and the forthcoming heros "Ben Hur," suggest an almost masculine boldness, but Miss Mathis is thoroughly feminine, even to concealing her age, which I guess is in the late 30's.

MATTER OF TIME

From stage and story structure, she has learned to apporportion comedy and drama for a satisfactory workaday, as well as for box office successes.

"The difference between the two," she tells you, "is largely a matter of time. Tragedy too long sustained becomes ludicrous, and vice versa. One must know how much to give to each in life as well as in the movies."

SONS BUCK 'DAD' IN CIGAR STORE

Wealthy Boys Run Business in Opposition to Father

RISE EARLY--WORK HARD, M

Work Long Hours and Are Making Money

ORANGE, N. J. — (Special) — Can a millionaire's son make good working for a living?

"Surest thing, if he takes the job seriously," says young Frank Whelan.

"And if he's got enough nerve," adds his brother Albert.

Nerve? That's the chief stock in trade of the Whelan brothers. They had enough nerve to buck their millionaire father in business competition.

They've got a chain of five cigar stores and they're planning more. Each store is in a battle for business against units in the chain of "teen stores run by their father, Charles A. Whelan, chairman of the board of the United Cigar Stores Company.

"What does father think? You'll have to ask Dad—I guess he knows," said the elder brother, Frank.

"Dad," at his New York office, had nothing to say; the inference was that the junior Whelans are padding their own case.

Still in his twenties, Frank got tired of the law business after qualifying as a lawyer at the Fordham University. So he got a job as clerk in a cigar and drug store started by his brother-in-law, John Tobin Cassidy, in Orange, their home town.

Then brother Albert came in and they formed the Whelan-Cassidy company and established four more stores in East Orange, Bloomfield, Rutherford and Rahway.

"Albert and I worked darned hard when we launched the business," said Frank. "We got up at 6.30 in the morning, and still do. We get behind the counter ourselves. And many Saturday nights we're on the job until 12 or 1."

They've got a system of work. This is it, says Frank:

"Eat a big breakfast and you're ready for a big day's work. That's the system we follow. Packing up and down behind a counter and keeping a smile, even for the chronic kicker, isn't as easy as it looks. It's easier, though, if you are well looked to start with."

"The pleasantest thing about it," says Albert, "is that we're showing a few things to those folks who think millionaires' sons are born with silver spoons in their mouths and are not built for work."

16 PASS EXAMS
COLUMBUS — Sixteen of the 31 applicants who took the state examinations for pharmacist's certificates were successful, the state board of pharmacy announced.

AUTO TAG SALES MOUNT; CLUB MEMBERSHIP BOOMS

More than $50,000 worth of plates have been sold by the Lima Automobile club in the past month James Heffner, manager, reports, and the rush of applicants is still running strong.

Money derived from the sale is banked five times each day, so there is no large amount on hand at any one time.

Incidentally the membership of the club is mounting higher each day. January 1, the total was hovering around the 1,000 mark. Today it is more than 1,100.

BOXES ARE BUILT FOR PURPOSE OF SMASHING

MADISON, Wis. — One thousand big shipping boxes and crates, valued at $25,000 each of California yellow pine, are being manufactured at the U. S. forest products laboratory here for the express purpose of being smashed.

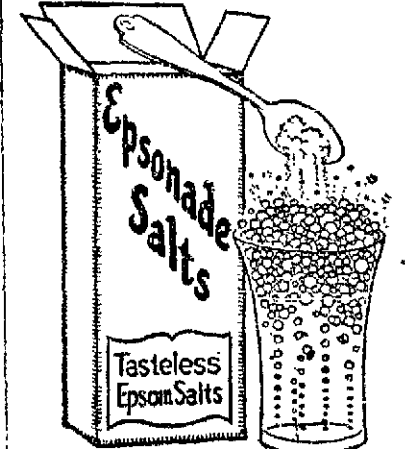

The word "express" above is intended as a pun. The boxes will be broken scientifically by strain-and-stress machines resembling the torture wheels of the Spanish Inquisition, to determine their fitness to withstand the bumps of shipping.

Some of these tests will attempt to determine the proper thickness of materials to be used in crates and boxes for shipping, the proper kinds of nailing, some to improve the design of wooden crates, and the others will be to work out the best form of metal strapping and other bindings.

Each box will be tested on a giant drum wheel to see how many hard knocks the boxes will stand before spilling their contents.

THREE WOMEN LISTED IN LATEST PANEL FOR JURIES

Members of the petit jury panels sitting in common pleas court cases during January will be excused Friday.

Two new panels were called Friday to provide jurymen and women during February. The list includes three women, Mrs. Harriet Motter, Miss Hattie Evans, of Lima, and Mrs. Stanley Pelletier, Marion-tv.

Jurors for Judge H. W. Blachly's court are: E. A. Ackerman, Lafayette; P. J. Heffner, Lima; Frank Selzer, Lima; C. H. Parlette, Auglaize-tv; J. P. Miller, Lima; Samuel Bixel, Bluffton; William Wisner, Shawnee-tv; A. D. Welker, Lima; Matt McNamara, Lima; Mrs. Harriet Motter, Lima; A. E. Lee, Lima; G. W. Schuler, Lima; H. L. # EIGHT ARRESTED AT KLAN MEET

Men Are Jailed by New York City Detectives

CARRYING WEAPONS CHARGED

Blackjacks Found in Possession of the Accused

NEW YORK — (United Press)—Eight men alleged to have been leaving a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan held in a Brooklyn traffic court room, were arrested and jailed early today by detectives of the bomb squad.

A bottle of Scotch whisky, two black jacks and a white robe with eyelets in the head were found in the car in which the men were preparing to drive away when seized according to Lieutenant Gegan, head of the squad, and other detectives.

Seventy-five men had just completed a meeting under the name of "marines circle club" Gegan declared.

The white robe was claimed by Alfred C. Clark, a dancing instructor, one of the men held, while another admitted possession of the blackjack, police declared.

The blackjack's owner claimed he carried it as a precaution against holdup bandits, it is alleged.

Another of the eight was declared to have admitted he purchased the Scotch whisky for $8.

The men were charged with possessing concealed weapons.

They gave their names as Alfred C. Clark, dancing instructor, John F. Collins, chauffeur, C. E. Morris, manager, W. D. M. Simmons, advertising manager, John McDonald, photographer, Thomas Jones, salesman, Charles T. Mulford, New York and R. V. Fisher, student.

MASKED HAND TRIAL OPENS
ARDMORE, Okla. (Associated Press)—Eleven prominent citizens of Carter-co faced trial in district court here today on charges of murder growing out of the slaying of three men near Wilson, Okla., during the operations of a masked band on the night of December 15, 1921.

The Ku Klux Klan was definitely brought into the case by the state when it questioned witnesses at the preliminary hearing as to the existence of the organization in this county, and as to a meeting which was said to have been held here a few nights prior to the killings. The hearing was brought to an abrupt close after one witness refused to answer a number of categorical questions concerning the Klan.

At the preliminary hearing Ray L. Beede, an Ardmore automobile dealer and one of the defendants, was pointed out by a brother of Joe Carroll, one of the three killed, as the man who "murdered my brother, causing a sensation in the crowded court room."

Carroll later retracted his statement, saying that he "might have been mistaken."

OFFICIALS WARNED

BASTROP La. — (United Press)—Mer Rouge and Bastrop, bitter enemies since the kidnapping and murder of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards, by a hooded mob last August, began to forget their differences today following the adjournment of the open hearing into terrorist activities.

Officials and leaders in the communities were warned that troops would return and the parish placed under martial law if further disturbances occurred.

Guardmen who have been on duty since Governor John Parker ordered a probe of activities of masked bands, were enroute home today.

Officials under direction of Attorney General A. V. Cox, however, began making transcripts and briefs of the sensational testimony given during the last three weeks.

The evidence will be presented to a grand jury in March and indictments asked.

NINETY-EIGHT OUT OF EVERY HUNDRED WOMEN

who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for ailments peculiar to their sex, have been benefited by it. What a marvelous record for any medicine to hold! Over 50,000 women replied to a questionnaire recently sent out by Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., 98 per cent of whom definitely stated that they had been benefited or restored to health by this old fashioned root and herb medicine. This is a most wonderful record for efficiency and should induce every woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex to give it a fair trial—Adv.

WELFARE LEAGUE PLANS MAUDE BOOTH RECEPTION

Arrangements for the dinner to be given in honor of Maude Ballington Booth are being completed by members of the Girls' Welfare League, of Central high school.

This event has been under consideration and preliminary planning for the past month and with the appointment of the program committee, everything is ready. Those on the newly appointed committee are Anna Kautzka, chairman; Evonne Faust and Dorothy Dempster.

Every year the girls of this club give an entertainment in the form of a penny carnival. Funds derived are used to supply milk to undernourished children of the city.

FIRST ICE HARVEST

PORT CLINTON—The first ice harvested in this vicinity is being taken from Lake Erie, and placed in the large ice houses at Camp Perry. The ice is more than six inches thick. That being cut here will be used during encumbrances of the Ohio national guard next summer.

When women talk of baking, Calumet makes new friends

DELICIOUS cake—a friendly discussion of its ingredients over the teacups, has led thousands of women to change to Calumet. These women who formerly made no distinction between baking powders know now

- that success in baking is a matter of baking powder—not luck.
- that Calumet not only raises dough, but that the scientific composition and the white of egg keep it from falling.
- that it may be depended upon always for light, tender, tasteful baking.

If you have not been uniformly successful in baking, try Calumet in your favorite recipe.

CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

prevents failures and saves the cost of spoiled ingredients. It is moderate in cost, and because it has more leavening strength than many other brands, less is used. Its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.

Facts to remember when you buy baking powder:

- Be sure it contains white of egg;
- Don't be misled by offers of quantity instead of quality;
- Insist upon Calumet.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

MILK INSPECTION IS PLANNED

Ordinance to be Presented, Healthers Decide

Members of the city commission will be asked to consider an ordinance for the regulation and inspection of milk bottling plants in the city, it was decided at the meeting of the board of health Thursday night.

This measure will probably be presented to the commission Monday night, C. A. Bingham, city manager, said. It has to do with sanitary conditions in bottling plants and is receiving the support of the larger milk dealers, it is asserted.

Arrangements were also made with the trustees of St. Rita's hospital whereby the city will be assisted in the financing of the public health clinic, Bingham reported. Because of lack of funds it was necessary for the city to cut down appropriations $1,000 this year. Action of the hospital will materially aid the city in caring for those who afflicted with social diseases and would otherwise not receive treatment.

WALKS INTO HEADQUARTERS, NOW FACES DOUBLE CHARGE

"The old lion, no matter how sleek, finally gets caught in the trap."

With this allusion to natural history, Henry Leist, 55, barber, summarized his own case from behind the bars of Delphos city jail after he had walked into a snare of his own volition.

Leist dropped in at police headquarters Thursday night. He was escorted to a cell and a bottle of dark fluid, thought to be illicit liquor, was confiscated.

Friday Leist faced the possibility of having a double charge of drunkenness and possession of intoxicating liquor placed against him.

SUSPECTS TAKEN

Youths Held as Assailants of Fields Brothers

Emerson Blue, 19, and Walter Kiber, 19, charged with beating and robbing Johnathan and Simeon Fields, both past 70 years old, at their home seven miles west of Kenton, are under arrest.

The boys were taken at the Blue home in Marysville Thursday, having been under suspicion since the crime at the Fields home was committed Saturday night.

They were removed to Marion and placed in the county jail. Bond was fixed at $2,000 each and are held to the next grand jury.

The Fields brothers are still in a serious condition at their home. Twenty-five dollars and a gold watch was stolen from their place of residence after the aged men had been beaten in a brutal manner. Aroused by the glare of a flashlight in their eyes, the men tried to protect their property, but were beaten down.

Their assailants escaped in an auto.

DOG PROBLEM STILL CONFRONTS OFFICIALS

Solution of the unlicensed dog problem is still held up, Allen, co-commissioner's declared Friday. No action has been taken toward providing funds or employing extra men to look after the county canines, Commissioner A. J. Gray asserted.

In the meanwhile, 1,700 dog owners have bought license tags. Attitude of county officials, generally expressed, is not to slaughter the dogs, but to induce owners to pay license.

W. A. DUGRAY FUNERAL

Funeral services for William A. DuGray, 53, who died Wednesday at his home in Youngstown, will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at Woodlawn cemetery chapel here. Rev. Samuel Huucker, pastor of Market-st Presbyterian church will officiate. Lima Lodge of Elks, of which DuGray was a member, will have charge of the services. Burial in Woodlawn.

COULDN'T MAKE CHANGE, POLICE CHIEF PAYS FINE OF $1 FOR HIS NEIGHBOR

Chief of Police T. A. Lanker paid his first fine in criminal court Friday morning.

Not that he was fined for violating a city ordinance, but he paid $1 for a neighbor.

Thursday evening, as one of the officers called at the chief's home on Ewing-st, Paul Wagner, residing next door, had parked his automobile in the wrong direction. It was tagged, and when Wagner appeared in court Lanker volunteered to pay the fine after Wagner had tendered a large bill that could not be changed.

THOMPSON PAROLE HEAD

COLUMBUS — Dent O. Thompson, a merchant of Coshocton, today was appointed superintendent of pardons and paroles by Governor Donahy, succeeding the late General W. Y. McMaken of Toledo. Mr. Thompson was a district tax assessor for Coshocton-co under the Wainwright law.

PHILADELPHIA PLOT CLAIMED BY INDIANS

"PHILADELPHIA — Dusty records showing the land titles granted by William Penn and his commissioners in the early days of the founding of Philadelphia, have been brought forth in an effort to convince Chief War Eagle and Chief Amos S. Bear, of the Onondaga tribe of Indians who represent the six nations, that a plot of ground in Second-st below Chestnut does not belong to the Indians. The chiefs, who came here from Wisconsin to establish the Indians' ownership of the land, contended that it belonged to the six nations under a Wampum agreement with John Penn, grandson of William Penn, when the former was governor of Pennsylvania. The Wampum belt, they declared, was in possession of the Onondaga tribe at its reservation in Wisconsin.

The records at city hall showed that the title to the land was clear and that it was the property of the Keystone Telephone Company.

MOOSE ARRANGE CARNIVAL TO BE OPENED FEBRUARY 15

Nine nights of fun and revelry are planned by Lima Lodge of Moose, commencing February 15, it was decided at a meeting to the order held in Moose Temple Thursday night.

Vaudeville, musical attractions and novelty features will be among the amusements offered. An extensive exhibit of work on the students in Mooseheart school, maintained by the Moose, will be a feature. G. C. Pound will have charge of plans.

SPARKS, BURNING FLUE CAUSE OF TWO ALARMS

Sparks from a passing locomotive set fire to a pile of lumber at Lima Locomotive Works Thursday evening. The lumber was located near two newly erected buildings, but the flames were held in check, with slight damage.

A defective flue caused a small blaze at the home of Charles D. Gamble, 729 W Market-st, Thursday night. The fire was quickly extinguished, with small damage.

BUDGET PLAN FOR COMMERCE BOARD

Expenditures to be Held Within Limits for Year

Operations of the Lima Board of Commerce will be conducted on the budget plan this year, Miss Marietta Day, assistant manager, announced Friday.

This means that a certain sum of money will be apportioned to each division of the board and the expenditures kept within that limit, she pointed out.

Because of the varied activities of the Board of Commerce, it has been decided by the executive committee that the finances must be more carefully administered than ever before in the history of either organization.

One of the first moves will be the funding of the deficits of each of the organizations composing the new body and the making of plans where by a portion of the debt and the interest can be paid each year.

This will relieve the new board of the necessity of paying the entire debt the first year, Miss Day explained, and at the same time will assure those whom the money is due that the amount will be paid.

Memberships in the industrial and retail groups will be on the multiple plan, each factory or store taking out a certain number of membership, according to the amount of service they will receive.

Individual memberships will be $25 a year and will entitle the holder to the full service of the organization. This group will include professional men and citizens not conducting large businesses.

Returns from the membership of the two merged organizations to date have been very satisfactory, Miss Day said, and there is every indication that a strong working body will be soon.

In working out the activities of the board, special care has been taken to include only those which will afford a distinct service, and members should feel free to call on it at any time for the answer to any problem they may have, she added.

TWO ESCAPE INJURY IN CRASH OF AUTOMOBILES

Rev. Victor A. Smith, 1519 W. High-st., pastor of the Christ Episcopal church, corner North and West-sts. and Walter W. Kohn, barber, 226 N. Charles-st., escaped injury when cars they were driving collided at High and Baxter-sts. The impact caused the two machines, both Ford sedans, to overturn in the street.

Rev. Smith was going east on High-st. and Kohn was driving south on Baxter-st. Rev. Smith's car hit the Kohn machine, a glancing blow, spinning it around, overturning both machines.

Damage to the two cars was estimated at $250.

Best Cough Mixture Is Home Made

Acts With Speed — Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Cures

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home

When you can make it in two minutes a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often over-comes stubborn coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Hawking and snuffling and also soreness of the mucous membrane go and you will feel fine in almost no time. Just get one ounce of Parment (don't be strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason many proud use it for Catarrh and acute nasal colds.—Adv.

ENGLAND NOW HAS COXEY ARMY

Unemployed of Scotland March to London as Protest

15,000 MEETINGS ON ONE DAY

Demand Action of Parliament to Relieve Situation

(BY MILTON BRONNER)

LONDON, — (Special) — Not since the hard times of nearly 30 years ago, when Coxe's army of unemployed marched upon Washington from all over our middle west, has any great capital of a big civilized nation seen anything like London has been experiencing—an invasion from Scotland and northern England of the unemployed.

Several thousands have put in an appearance, braving the hardships of a tramp over rainsoaked roads, facing cold, hunger, lack of shelter, and the possibility of arrest as vagrants. Some walked 500 miles coming from North Scotland. Many are married men who left their wives and children behind. Their object was to focus attention upon their lot and to force an early meeting of Parliament to deal with the unemployment problem.

There are about 1,300,000 people out of work in Great Britain. The country gives many of the workless an unemployment dole. Although this runs in to millions of dollars per year, the dole in many cases hardly keeps body and soul together. In the last meetings of Parliament, after Bonar Law became prime minister, the big Labor representation in the House of Commons insisted that the legislature should not adjourn until something more had been done for the workless. Nevertheless Parliament was prorogued until Feb. 13.

It was then the march upon London was decided upon. Many say Communists are back of the thing. But the regular Trades Union movement is also interested and on a recent Sunday decreed that the day should be known as "National Unemployed Sunday." Over 1500 meetings of protest were held all over the United Kingdom.

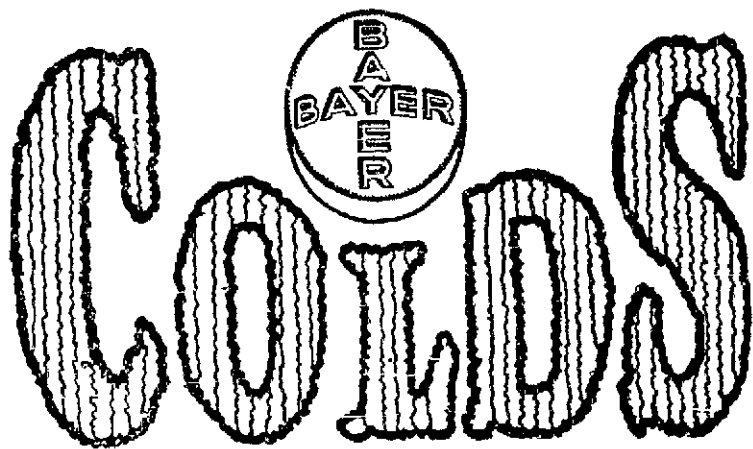

The most interesting and most crucial meeting was held in London in famous Trafalgar Square. The speakers addressed the crowds from the Nelson monument. Things were done there without police interference, that would have led to wholesale arrests in American cities. Many Communist organizations participated and brought their red flags along. Before George Lansbury, a Labor member of Parliament, addressed the meeting, the crowd sang "The Red Flag." Lansbury sang, too.

The meeting passed a resolution denouncing the parliamentary holiday as a manifestation of indifference to the chronic sufferings of the thousands of men, women and children affected by unemployment. They demanded that the government treat the situation as a national emergency and either take steps to secure employment or else provide for them a proper standard of maintenance.

RUSSIA IS THREATENED WITH LOCUST PLAGUE

MOSCOW—Alarming reports are reaching the government here of the spread of locusts in the agricultural sections. In one province alone tens of thousands of acres are threatened. In the meantime, experiments are under way with a view of rendering the locust harmless to crops. Prof. Kolzor, a famous Russian biologist, has succeeded in transplanting whole heads of locusts. A female locust whose head was exchanged for that of a male two weeks ago is still living. It inherited some of the male habits, at the same time, however, keeping its purely feminine abilities.

Good Interest Makes a Regular Income

A regular income, independent of work, is the ambition of every man. It can only be won by investing money. When money is plentiful, fixed investments do not offer large returns, but when money is tight larger returns are obtainable. Money is loosening, and interest rates have been easing. Consequently, returns on new investments will be less.

Our 8% Cumulative Preferred

Some time ago we issued our 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock, tax-free in Ohio. Then the rate was fair. Now it is exceptionally good. Some of that stock is still for sale.

Your careful investigation will show our earnings to be several times the preferred dividend, thus assuring the regularity of the income, and will also convince you of the strong assets behind this stock.

Any director or officer of this company will be glad to tell you about this. An inquiry may greatly increase your income.

Composite View of the Plant Where Walk-Over Shoes are Made

This store has been giving service under factory management. But the rapidly growing business has so brought it to the front that Mr. Chas. B. Fisher, who owns the Walk-Over Shop in Toledo, has now taken over the entire ownership. He will maintain the same Walk-Over high standards of service, courtesy and square dealing that have kept this store in the lead.

In Walk-Overs he offers your full money's worth of style, comfort and service. There's a world-wide reputation of 48 years of fine shoemaking behind every pair. In Walk-Overs you are offered right here in Lima, the same identical styles that men and women of discriminating taste are wearing in all the style centers of Europe and America.

Mr. Thos. Bailey comes to this store as manager with 12 years experience in fitting feet. And with the store force associated with him, you are assured the most careful attention to correct fitting.

The stock will always be kept new and right up-to-the-minute and Mr. Fisher aims to begin the New Year with a brand new spring stock. He is now in the East buying it. Consequently in appreciation of your patronage, which has made it possible for this store to occupy and maintain its present position of leadership,—and to better acquaint new patrons with the service that we offer, we announce

English Host Sued for Damages
Sustained in Accident

MEMBERS OF PARTY INJURED

Far-Reaching Effect of Decision
Widely Discussed

LONDON — (Associated Press)—The recent decision of an English court allowing $14,000 damages to occupants of an automobile against the owner thereof, as a result of a motor accident which occurred while they were the guests of the owner, has aroused much interest throughout the country.

The plaintiffs were invited by a sister of the owner of the machine to accompany her on a ride, during which the accident happened. Every person in the car was injured. The guests sued the owner for damages.

DECISION FAR-REACHING

The case has given rise to considerable discussion because of the issues involved. According to a prominent London attorney, as a result of the verdict, there is no reason why a guest at a dinner, at a weekend party, or in fact of any status, cannot sue his host for any accident or loss of apparel he might undergo. This would make the host responsible for any losses his guests might sustain from fire, theft or carelessness. Under the liabilities of the host would also be sickness which might result from food served, or of disease contracted during the visit.

The insurance companies are making strong protest against the verdict, as it seriously affects their business.

The usual accident policies issued to householders in England provide only for the loss of clothes belonging to guests thru fire or theft, and do not provide for cases of sickness or accidents to the guests.

ADA MAN IS BACK AT DAILY WORK

Had to Quit Work Because of Poor Health Before Taking Plant Juice

"I am feeling like a different man and have been able to go back to my work since I have taken your Plant Juice medicine," said Mr. D. D. Wingate, of South Simon street, Ada, Ohio, during a recent conversation

MR. D. D. WINGATE with The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima. Mr. Wingate has many friends in Lima and is acquainted with nearly everybody at Ada. Continuing, he said:

"For a long time I had suffered from severe dizzy spells and they finally got so bad that I had to quit my work. I was even afraid to drive my machine because of the dizzy spells. I suffered badly from indigestion and bloating and had to be careful about what I ate and couldn't eat many of the foods I liked because of this trouble. I had dull, heavy headaches and felt tired and worn out. My bowels were badly constipated and, in short, I was in mighty bad condition in general. 'I read about Plant Juice and started taking it and am now on my fourth bottle. I am back at my work now for I do not have the dizzy spells anymore. The dull pains in my head have been relieved; I can eat without distress afterward and sleep fine at night. My bowels are in good condition now; the tired, worn out feeling has been relieved and, in short, I am feeling like a different man. I can say that your Plant Juice put me back on my feet and I can't say enough for it after what it did for me.'"

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given away. Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.—Adv.

OPEN LETTERS

To County Commissioners
To General Byng

BOYS: Congratulations on having settled your dog fight. I was afraid this terrible battle was to continue thruout the winter and I would get nothing else done except try to keep up with the many details involved.

Now that you have buried the hatchet, fixed the responsibility of annihilating the stray canines and agreed to go ahead, I can settle down to work again. But boys, kill as few dogs as is compatible with the safety of the community. If there's one thing I love, next to humanity, it's a dog. Many a wrangle has stirred our otherwise tranquil home when I have suggested to Mrs. Beane that we take a couple of pups to raise. I hope you will be able to handle the situation without a single dog losing his life.

LIMA BEANE

To My Small Factories

MUCH gets into print about the big factories of a city, but as a rule the smaller ones do not get much notice. This is not altogether just. No city could get along without the little plants that help employ the population. A one-plant town as a rule never gets very far.

It is nice to read about the big institutions getting big orders and it is proper that due recognition should be given them, but this does not mean that the organizations with half a dozen or half a hundred employees are appreciated any less in the community.

I want my big plants to get big orders and my small ones, orders in proportion to their capacity. I want all to work up to the limit and we are in a good way to realize that condition now.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Builders

FRIENDS: Announcement of opening of new additions to my city indicate that prices for homes to be erected will range from $4,500 to $6,000, plus interest in time payments.

Doubtless all of these will be snapped up by skilled workers who have advantage of good incomes, but the average laboring man probably will be unable to go that high. Could not a group of cheaper homes be erected to fit the purse of the worker?

LIMA BEANE

To the Lima Locomotive Works

GENTLEMEN: Fine work! That new order for 58 locomotives looks mighty good to me. Keep it up!

While I'm writing, I want to express my appreciation of the interest your organization is taking in my city. The plan you and other industrial organizations have worked out to supply homes for my people is an undertaking that will result in much good. Thanks.

LIMA BEANE

To City Engineers

FRIENDS: The short section of wood block paving on W. High-st has required more attention in the last few years than any paving in my city. I have seen it start to float away; I have seen it bulge and "explode," and

I have seen the present condition which you are planning to repair. This may not, however, be the fault of the material but of the manner in which it was put down.

I have one suggestion. Before you decide to lay any kind of pavement in the future, be absolutely certain it will stay put.

LIMA BEANE

To Delphos People

MY DEAR FRIENDS: As a lover of peace and harmony and civic progress in all parts of my splendid county, I am suggesting that contention be eliminated in the matter of the selection of paving material for several of your best thoroughfares, under consideration.

To the city council I would suggest that since the property owners on the streets are to pay the major portion of the cost, their desires in the matter of material to be used and whether the work should be done this year or next, should be given right of way.

LIMA BEANE

To the Board of Education
To Prof. J. E. Collins

FRIENDS: While the state examiner who went over your books for the period of 1918 to 1922 found some things to growl about, I take it as very flattering to you that he did not find a single instance where money was misappropriated or overdrawn during that time.

As I understand his report, he criticized a method of business other inspectors had found all right. It was not the results obtained or the usage of funds that he found fault with, but simply a technical matter of the manner in which these results should be arrived at.

On the whole, you have a right to feel proud of the conditions he found to exist.

LIMA BEANE

To Vehicle Drivers

MY FRIENDS: I have noticed, on various occasions, when the fire department trucks are hurrying thru the downtown streets, enroute to a fire, many of you apparently fail to make any attempt whatever to give my firefighters right of way.

If your home was burning and somebody should delay the department, you probably wouldn't be enthusiastic in approval. Besides, you are in danger of being called to account to the law for failure to clear the way for fire trucks. Surely you must bear the gong clanging continuously in warning.

LIMA BEANE

To Marshal Ernest Hennie of Spencerville

DEAR ERNIE: Noting what you say about well formed suspicions that Lima is made a central point of distribution of the products of bootleggers for other parts of the county, particularly your village, I would suggest that a Sherlock Holmes would refrain from making public his suspicions if unable to fasten guilt anywhere.

If rum runners really have been invading your town, to alleviate the thirst of certain citizens, they are probably right now laughing in their sleeves over your confession that you are unable to trap them.

'ROUND LIMA HOUR BY HOUR

—WITH APOLOGIES—

BY OH, OH, JACKENRIM

A Page from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter: PALM BEACH, on a Saturday night. As busy and crowded as High and Main. Population, 10,500. Clematis avenue, solidly parked with autos. In a row, one from South Dakota, a Ford from Ohio and a Packard from Oregon. Florida licenses by weight, requiring only a rear tag.

Sunday, and into a roll chair, with Frank, a native as chauffeur. He says "you has to get climatized to stand this town in summer." "Care-takers on the Island wear an armor of mosquito-proof veils. Out, past the new Elks Home, very pretty. Built in a Spanish style architecture, with verandas, an orange stucco structure. The Catholic church with a large parish. Over the toll-bridge, missing a truck filled with turtles weighing 200 pounds each. From Key West. All the women in white, gaily colored knitted suits, or sweaters. One of the largest stores here sells nothing but sweaters. Our chauffeur is cooing, and Old Sol hitting 90 in the Sunshine League. On the island, famous Palm Beach.

To the right, the equally famous Bradley's and home of one of the brothers. The Ubadam house-boat studios. Jeannette has a shop here and so has Bonwit-Teller, New York. The Beaux Arts club, and upstairs, a movie theatre. A governor with two happy boys about eight and nine. And a sweet little girl of six, bicycling. Mamma was probably dancing late last night.

Palm Beach Island is 13 miles long and from a narrow strip, to a mile and a half wide. On one side, the Atlantic and the beach, on the west Lake Worth. Now a salt water basin with two inlets to the ocean. So, the yachts can enter. There are some fifty anchored here today.

The Stokesbury estate of that Philadelphia banker. Mr. and Mrs. Stokesbury entering a wheel chair on their way to the Episcopal church. The rector only works ninety days a year. How did Pat O'Ferrall overlook this parish? Just off Ocean-av the cottage of Miss Billie Burke, alias Mrs. Flo Ziegfeld. Still unoccupied. Will be vacuumed for her February first.

The home of the late Theodore N. Vail, his widow now here. Lake Trail is lined with coconut palms and the nuts drop on your head if you don't dodge. Page the suburb of Clikton! Villa of Dr. (?) Russell Hopkins, who invented "Kirk No More" to take the curl out of colored folks' hair, while the Princess is putting it in for the white folks. Memories of days that have gone! Twin homes on Ocean boulevard of the Mummus Brothers, famous for Extry dry. And made rich when the sprinkling only brot $4 a quart. Albert, you kicked at that price. They are bathing this morning, but the waves are high. Little change in beach costumes. The ladies are wearing a very neat sport shoe, of white buck, with narrow trimming in black, and plain toe. Hibiscus Inn, the smartest hostelry on the island. The Breakers has 1800 rooms, all taken for February. And the Polciana is sold out. Their unique cocoanut tea garden opened yesterday. Frank stops to take a palm full of fluid from a rubber tree and rolls a band for my bill book. While we wait.

The home of Dodge Brothers, who died before they occupied it. The trouble with winter resorts is. That the average age of residents, as well as tourists, touches 61 years, 6 months. Now and then a child gets in early on the second generation.

The wonderful mansion of the late Henry Flagler. Not reopened since his death. And the prettiest low Spanish cottage, the Elvire Place. You remember the mystery regarding his murder. Modest home of Otto Kahn, the New York banker.

The Polciana Hotel, built by Flagler when he opened the resort. The lowest rate is $32 a day. You can get better rooms if you want them. Close March 1st, so hurry your reservation.

Lunched at the Royal Palm, a new hotel on the west side. Another new six story fire-proof hotel opens here Monday. Over 3,500 homes built in 1922 and a Komulish runs the town. And it's clean. So, to dress for the beach.

ALUM

A weak solution of alum in alcohol, water or toilet water, say as much powdered alum as you can take up on a dime to two ounces, makes an excellent application for excessive sweating of the hands, feet or armpits, sponged or brushed over the affected skin and allowed to dry on.

Some persons subject to canker sores in the mouth prefer touching each sore daily with a bit of alum, altho I think it is better to touch each sore daily with a mixture of equal parts of iodine and glycerin.

Bathing the feet with a water solution of alum of the strength suggested for sweating is often a relief in chilblain.

Powdered alum may be kept dusted in the groove between nail edge and skin in so called "ingrowing" nail. The nail isn't growing in, but the soft tissue has been pushed against the nail edge by narrow, ill fitted shoes, so that inflammation of the soft tissues has occurred. When this inflammation progresses to the degree of granulation ("proud flesh") in the groove, the granulation tissue must be discouraged or shriveled or removed, for skin will never grow up hill. Alum restrains it as well as any other application, and if the pressure by improper footwear is avoided the trouble will often disappear.

A solution of half an ounce of alum in a pint of water sweetened with honey or glycerin or both makes a good gargle for low grade chronic sore throat. Speakers and singers troubled with a huskiness of the voice have praised the following gargle:

Potassium chlorate ..... 2 drams
Bolling water ..... 4 oz.
Powdered alum ..... 1 dram
Stronger rose water, 2 oz., and 5 drams

Glycerin, Syrup, of each ..... 1-2 oz.
Fluid extract of red gum ..... 3 drams

The potassium chlorate should be dissolved in the boiling water and set aside to cool. The alum should be dissolved in the rose water, then the other ingredients added in order. This may then be mixed with the part set aside. The result should be a clear, ruby liquid of agreeable odor and taste. The official name for red gum is Eucalyptus rostrata. If that cannot be had, two drams of fluid extract of Kino may be substituted for the three drams of red gum.

For use, add a tablespoonful to a tablespoonful of water and gargle once or twice within the half hour before the crime.

How My Husband Reduced High Blood Pressure

By Mrs. Hadley Rinhart

"My husband suffered from high blood pressure. For three years he had terrible dizzy spells and spent many sleepless nights. He would often be taken in the middle of the night with one of these spells and I would have to get temporary and immediately. He was advised to take NORMA. After taking one bottle, his dizziness had completely left him and he gets perfect rest, and I can truthfully say that he feels one hundred per cent better than before taking NORMA. Mr. Rinhart was advised to stop work and was confined to his home and now can go about his work. It is a wonderful remedy for High Blood Pressure and I am glad to have this opportunity of recommending it to all who suffer as my husband did."

High blood pressure is indicated by dizziness, nervousness, sleeplessness and "that moody feeling of dread" sometimes by hot flashes and lack of appetite. NORMA (purely vegetable) should reduce high blood pressure and make you feel well in a short time. Green's Public Drug Store is selling it every day as are hundreds of good druggists everywhere. Ask for NORMA—Adv.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By Berton Bracey JUDGMENT

Once on a time I respected the high-brow,
Once I was ruled by their cultural views,
Dreaded the curl of their uplifted eyebrows—
Now, well, I think more or less as I choose.
Faith in the highbrow's omniscience was shaken
When this plain fact was revealed to my sight,
Highbrows are oftentimes badly mistaken,
Lowbrows are frequently perfectly right.

Back in the days when Bill Shakespeare was living,
Highbrows regarded his drama as low,
Viewed all his stuff with a mean unforgiving,
Called "As You Like It" a "popular show."
Shakespeare has glory that goes on forever,
From which this clear little lesson we cull,
Maybe the highbrows aren't always so clever,
Maybe the lowbrows aren't totally dull.

Do not be frightened of snobs intellectual,
Sneering at stuff with the "popular touch,"
Tho they aspire to command and direct you all
They do not really amount to so much;

Cease to regard them with awe and with terror,
For tho they chatter of "beauty" and "art,"
Sometimes the highbrows are grossly in error,
Sometimes the lowbrows are right from the start.

CHAPLIN HAS 'EM' GUESSING NOW

Hollywood Wondering if He is to Wed Polish Actress

SOME SEE ROMANCE COOLING

Others Think Marriage Near—Pola Still Has Jewels

(BY ROBERT A. DONALDSON)
LOS ANGELES—(United Press)—To be or not to be Mrs. Charlie Chaplin—that's the question in Pola Negri's mind, which is keeping Hollywood in suspense.

There are many friends of the couple who believe that the romance has cooled off.

There are others who declare that instead of cooling off, it has merely settled down into a quiet engagement, which will end in a wedding early in February, if not before.

While it is obvious that the mad infatuation of the Polish beauty and the far-out comedian is not whirling along at the same high pitch noted by friends during the first few weeks, nevertheless Pola is still wearing Charlie's $3,000 bracelet, and they are seen together almost daily. There are also friends who declare that Pola has another piece of jewelry which she is not wearing in public just yet—a gorgeous diamond, set in platinum.

SWEPT OFF HIS FEET
There is no doubt that Charlie was swept off his feet by the beautiful Polish actress, and that she was just as infatuated with the man with the funny feet and trick mustache. A few days after their first meeting, they were inseparable.

But Charlie, his friends explain, is a man of intense enthusiasm, which sometimes are sustained and sometimes wear off just as rapidly.

"It's just like Charlie when he conceived the idea of 'The Kid,'" one friend explained to the United Press. "He started in on it with terrific enthusiasm, got about half way thru, became fed-up with it, and decided it wouldn't be a success. So he abruptly stopped work on it. Later on he decided that his first opinion of it was correct, became enthusiastic again and finished it. Maybe it's the same with Pola—who knows?"

Other friends point out that Pola is in the middle of intense work on "Bella Donna," an immense Paramount spectacle starring Pola in her first American-made film, and that anything like a real honeymoon would be impossible at the present time.

CHAPLIN IS DIRECTING
Charlie for the time being has dropped acting altogether, and is directing Edna Puveyance in a picture written by himself. It would also be impossible for him, to go on a honeymoon at the present time.

Both stars, however, will finish their work in a few weeks. Then there will be several weeks' interval before Pola starts work on her second American-made picture, "Deceit," and in the belief of many filmdom's most famous marriage and honeymoon will be staged at this time.

NUCOA is the choice of millions of people. Compare it with pure creamery butter in nutriment and quality.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you will appear years younger.—Adv.

SULPHUR SOOTHES UGLY, ITCHING SKIN

The First Application Makes Skin Cool and Comfortable

If you are suffering from eczema or some other torturing embarrassing skin trouble you may quickly be rid of it by using Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, because of its germ-killing properties, seldom fails to quickly subdue itching, even of fiery eczema. The first application makes the skin cool and comfortable. Itch and blotches are healed right up. Rowles Menthosulphur is applied like any pleasant cold cream and is perfectly harmless. You can obtain a small jar from any good druggist.—Adv.

Have You a Cough?

Read What This Woman Says

Elyria, Ohio—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a household remedy for deep-seated coughs and colds and as a tonic and builder in run-down conditions. Golden Medical Discovery has been of great value to me and to my family for years and it is a pleasure to recommend it."—Mrs. Emma Vosburgh, 223 Rush St.

When run-down you can quickly pick up and regain vim, vigor, vitality by obtaining this Medical Discovery of Dr. Pierce's at your nearest drug store in tablets or liquid, or send 40c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg., or write for advice.—Adv.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

DANGER COURTED BY CHILDREN

Ice at City Reservoirs Unsafe, Parents Warned

Warning against skating or sledging on city reservoir was issued by George Kirk, waterworks engineer, Friday.

Many children have been skating and using sleds on the ice which has formed and altho there have been no accidents to date, it is feared that trouble may be seen if the practice is continued.

Water is constantly flowing in and out of Twin Lakes, where the most children enjoy the ice sports, and as a result there are many open water spaces to menace the lives of the children, Kirk points out.

As the water is at least 25 feet deep in many places it would be almost sure death to any child who would happen to fall into the water, Kirk says. Every effort is being made to discourage ice sports, account danger.

"No Trespassing" signs have been erected at many places around the reservoir, but the children disregard them and go on the ice. The present time is the worst of the season, as the ice is not large enough to keep a man on the job watching them all the time, Kirk declares.

Fathers and mothers are requested by city officials to warn their children against venturing on the ice at the reservoirs.

COMMUNITY FAIR

Delphos Adopts Plan to Aid in Park Development

Kiwanis public affairs and park committee of Delphos will meet every Wednesday night, beginning next week for the purpose of drafting plans for a community fair April 18 and 19 in St. John's auditorium.

The fair will be dependent upon, Kiwanis officers say, to secure funds to carry on the building program at the new Delphos city park. Funds subscribed by organizations and citizens at large have practically been used up in construction of the swimming pool.

D. J. Clark, Kiwanis president, will make an appeal to all Delphos citizens and those residing in the vicinity to make the fair a success. It will be made a community proposition because of the benefits picknickers and others will derive from the park.

The immediate program contemplates the laying out of a baseball field tennis courts, erection of playground equipment and conversion of a section of the park into tourists' quarters.

Solicitations for the fair will be started soon. The Kiwanis finance committee will have charge of this work.

VAULT CONTAINING HOCH IN DELPHOS TO BE OPENED

Evidence taken in all liquor raids in and near Delphos, together with property of the police department and the mayor's court will probably be removed Friday night from vault in the City Building which was closed three weeks ago by Chief of Police H. A. Kehres and could not be opened.

Kehres lost the combination. Thirty gallons of hooch, a still or two and other evidence, mostly against bootleggers, was locked inside the vault. Mayor J. E. Williams Thursday summoned William Walsh, Jr., local jeweler, to take a look at the lock. He figured out the combination.

EFFICIENCY INSTITUTE COMES TO CLOSE FRIDAY

Miss Kennedy, of the Ohio Institute of Public Efficiency, spoke at the morning session of the Inter-city Conference Workers Friday at the Board of Commerce auditorium, on "Mothers' Pensions."

At the closing meeting Friday afternoon Dr. Edmund Baehr, director of the Ohio Bureau of Mental Research, Columbus, spoke on "The State Program for the Care and Custody of Ohio Mental Defectives."

Open meeting of the Conference held Thursday night was largely attended, luncheon clubs of the churches and local welfare organizations being represented. Arthur Guild of Toledo, secretary of the Toledo Social Service Federation gave a short talk on "Ohio Council of Family Social Work." Miss Alice Hill, special investigator of the Russell Sage Foundation, introduced Homer Borst of Indianapolis, noted philanthropist. He gave the principal address of the evening on "Family Social Work."

JEALOUSY IS CHARGED IN ANSWER TO DIVORCE SUIT

Green eyed monster, jealousy, broke up the home life of Radena Fitzsimmons, 818 St. John's-av, she alleges in a cross petition, in answer to divorce action instituted by Paul Fitzsimmons, clerk.

Whenever the wife let her eyes stray and even so much as glanced at another man, Fitzsimmons heaped abuse upon her, she asserts. Often he threatened to strike her with his fist and on occasions did so, she declares. The couple parted October 24, when Fitzsimmons is alleged to have mortgaged the furniture for $50 and fled to Toledo.

His wife has since caused his arrest thru the Lucas-co humane society. There is one child, Paul Wesley, seven, living with the mother.

Fitzsimmons in his original petition accused his wife of having good times with other men. They were married in 1912.

GLOOM IS SEEN BY FORECASTER

Gloomy conditions Friday, instead of rain or snow, were substituted at the last minute by the forecaster, or else he simply missed it in framing his prediction for the day.

At any rate, up to noon, there had been nothing that could be termed rain or snow, but the sun was hidden and big fair to stay out of sight during the remainder of the day.

Cloudy, with probable rain in south and rain or snow in north portions tonight and Saturday; warmer in south portion tonight. Colder in extreme north part of Ohio Saturday.

There's a wide variety of conditions to choose from. Take your choice and be satisfied with what you really get. With a range of possibilities such as are outlined by the forecaster, there should be little or no trouble about the prognosticator hitting it somewhere along the line.

Ted had decided to take a chance on skipping over the golf course this day, doing the unusual, but was recalled to hesitation when he scanned the weatherman's offering and detected evidence of moisture in the air in a marked manner.

Consequently, the golf course at the Shawnee Country club will not witness the presence of the weather mascot this day.

SCHOOL PLAY TONIGHT

"Hurry, Hurry, Hurry" will be presented by Ye Merile Players of South high school, tonight at 8 o'clock, at the Central high auditorium. The comedy was written by LeRoy Arnold and is in three acts. A one act comedy "Sauce for the Gossips," will precede the play. The high school orchestra will furnish music.

RATES EXPLAINED

Ohio Power Co. Will Meet Local Consumers

An afternoon conference between members of the city commission, officers of the Ohio Power Co. and consumers of electric power and steam heat will be held in the commission chambers Friday afternoon. New tariffs established by the Ohio Power Co. will be explained to the consumers and an attempt made to show why a few consumers are being forced to pay somewhat higher costs than in other years, it was said.

It is claimed by the power company that the tariffs as enforced by the Ohio Electric Co. were unselective and on certain classes of business the company lost heavily while on other classes large profits were made.

Under the plan of rates as announced by the Ohio Power Co. about 95 per cent of the consumers will be given lower rates while eight per cent will be forced to pay their fair share.

In order that all consumers may be fully informed as to the true costs and reasons why the increase in charges has been necessary this public meeting is being held, it was said.

An invitation has been extended by the city to all power and heat users to attend the conference.

WAPAKONETA MAN DIES

Alois John Seibert, 77, lifelong resident of Auglaize-co, died at his home in Wapakoneta. He was a brick mason.

MOTOR VEHICLES COLLIDE

The William & Davis ambulance, driven by Robert Kunzeles, and an auto in charge of G. J. Strayer, of Elids, were slightly damaged when they collided at Market and Elizabeths Friday noon. Neither driver was injured.

DELPHOS RESIDENT DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Death of Henry Heyd, 64, occurred at 3:30 p. m. Thursday at his home, W. Fourth-st, Delphos, following an illness of eight weeks from cancer.

He was an employee of the Delphos Manufacturing Co. and was engaged in agricultural pursuits until four years ago, when he moved from the farm to Delphos.

Besides the wife, Luzilla, he leaves three children, Mrs. Pearl Hunt, near Lima; Mrs. Mary Musser and Mrs. Harley Chamberlain, Delphos; also a sister and a brother, Mrs. Elmer Hickerson, Festoria, and Enos Heyd, Columbus Grove. There are 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at the Ottawa River chapel, 12 miles northeast of Delphos. The cortege will leave the home at 1 p. m. Interment in Ottawa River cemetery.

MISREPRESENTATION IN SALE OF SEX BOOKS IS CHARGED

Police have been asked to investigate several peddlers who are said to be selling books on sexology, claiming that they are representing the Lima board of health, C. A. Bingham, city manager, said Friday.

Complaints to the city and the Board of Commerce have shown that the peddlers are misrepresenting their goods and that the board of health has never been called to pass on the books being sold, Bingham declared.

PETITIONED REJECTED

Petition presented to the county commissioners by Sugar Creek-city farmers, asking that the "kinks" be taken out of Sandy Point-d near a cemetery off the Bucyrus-rd, was turned down Thursday. The damages resulting from the improvement made its cost prohibitive, commissioners held.

BROWN IS FREED

Delphos Youth Wrongfully Accused of Forgery

Harold Brown, Delphos youth, arrested on request of Kenton authorities, was taken to the Hardin-co city Wednesday as a forgery suspect, but upon being quizzed in Mayor Ochs' court, was discharged. It was found that it was a case of mistaken identity and that the Delphos boy was not the party wanted.

Charles Whitmore, 15, of Kenton, had been arrested, charged with three forgeries. He cleared two of the cases and asserted that Walter Brown of Delphos was guilty of the third. After Brown had been taken to Kenton, he was not identified by Whitmore. Brown was released.

Whitmore later admitted that he was guilty of the offense he charged to Brown. He traveled last summer with a merry-go-round, in company with a boy named Walter Brown, whom he said he believed lived in Delphos.

FORMER LIMA PRISONER UNDER TEST FOR SANITY

First of a series of examinations to test the sanity of Fred Goetting, former prisoner in the Lima state hospital and confessed murderer of Harry Keim, Cleveland hardware merchant, was made Friday by three physicians, commissioned by Common Pleas Judge Walther, with the consent of the defense and County Prosecutor Stanton.

Goetting, three times declared insane during previous prison terms and three times released from state hospitals as "cured," is scheduled to go on trial for Keim's murder before Judge Walther Monday.

INSTITUTE FOR ELIDA

Program for the Elida farmer's institute will be outlined by the committee in charge at a meeting Friday night in the Elida school house, H. J. Ridge, farm agent, announced Friday. The institute will be held February 12 and 13.

PROSPECT OF 700 MEMBERS FOR FARM BUREAU IS SEEN

Total of more than 500 members for the Farm Bureau of Allen-co signed up to date will be the report of the campaign committee to bureau board of directors Saturday at 1 p. m.

As this total has been secured in nine of the 12 townships of the county and there is still a large amount of work to be done, it is believed that the previous membership of 700 will be exceeded.

Workers visited farmers in Auglaize, Marion and Monroe-tps this week. Next week Marion-tp will be completed and the workers will start in Perry, Shawnee and Sugar Creek-tps. W. R. Price, president, said Friday.

Lima News and Their Families

How To Do It

Amateurs often times make the best advertisement writers. first you must believe in the article you are writing about. Then start writing just like you would be trying to sell that article or service to someone you knew who would be hard to convince.

Read the advertisements on this page. That may serve to give you an idea. Better still, go to the firms whose advertisements appear here, get first hand facts, then do your ad writing. That's the way ad experts do. They study every possible phase of the business and the article or service to be written about; in other words, they first sell themselves on the idea, then they are in position to sell the other fellow.

Rules of the Contest

Write plainly on one side of the paper only; write no more than fifty words. (Less than fifty words if possible) Pick out one merchant or one item from the list on this page and write your advertisement on the one subject only. You may send in as many advertisements as you like. Write no more than one advertisement on each sheet. Sign your name and address plainly on each sheet. In case of a tie, prizes will be awarded equally. That is, if there are two first prizes, each winner will receive $5; second $3 and third, $2. The advertising manager of The Lima News will judge all manuscripts. All answers must be in the News office not later than Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 30th, at 4 o'clock.

This page will appear again in a few days announcing the winners. Watch for it, for your advertisement may then appear in place of the advertisements as they now appear.

DANGER COURTIED BY CHILDREN

Ice at City Reservoirs Unsafe, Parents Warned

Warning against skating or sledging on city reservoir was issued by George Kirk, waterworks engineer, Friday.

Many children have been skating and using sleds on the ice which has formed and although there have been no accidents to date, it is feared that trouble may be seen if the practice is continued.

Water is constantly flowing in and out of Twin Lakes, where the most children enjoy the ice sports, and as a result there are many open water spaces to menace the lives of the children, Kirk points out.

As the water is at least 25 feet deep in many places it would be almost sure death to any child who would happen to fall into the water, Kirk says. Every effort is being made to discourage ice sports, account danger.

"No trespassing" signs have been erected at many places around the reservoir, but the children disregard them and go on the ice. At the present time the forces at the pump stations is not large enough to keep a man on the job watching them all the time, Kirk declares.

Fathers and mothers are requested by city officials to warn their children against venturing on the ice at the reservoirs.

COMMUNITY FAIR

Delphos Adopts Plan to Aid in Park Development

Kiwanis public affairs and park committee of Delphos will meet every Wednesday night, beginning next week for the purpose of drafting plans for a community fair April 18 and 19 in St. John's auditorium.

The fair will be depended upon, Kiwanis officers say, to secure funds to carry on the building program at the new Delphos city park. Funds subscribed by organizations and citizens at large have practically been used up in construction of the swimming pool.

D. J. Clark, Kiwanis president, will make an appeal to all Delphos citizens and those residing in the vicinity to make the fair a success. It will be made a community proposition because of the benefits picknickers and others will derive from the park.

The immediate program contemplates the laying out of a baseball field, tennis courts, erection of playground equipment and conversion of a section of the park into tourists' quarters. Solicitations for the fair will be started soon. The Kiwanis finance committee will have charge of this work.

VAULT CONTAINING HOOD IN DELPHOS TO BE OPENED

Evidence taken in all liquor raids in and near Delphos, together with property of the police department and the mayor's court, will probably be rescued Friday night from a vault in the City Building which was closed three weeks ago by Chief of Police H. A. Kehres and could not be opened.

Kehres lost the combination. Thirty gallons of hooch, a still or two and other evidence, mostly against bootleggers, was locked inside the vault. Mayor J. K. Williams Thursday summoned William Walsh, Jr., local jeweler, to take a look at the lock. He figured out the combination.

EFFICIENCY INSTITUTE COMES TO CLOSE FRIDAY

Miss Kennedy, of the Ohio Institute of Public Efficiency, spoke at the morning session of the Inter-city Conference on Efficiency Friday at the Board of Commerce auditorium, on "Mothers' Pensions."

At the closing meeting Friday afternoon Dr. Edmund Baehr, director of the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research, Columbus, spoke on "The State Program for the Care and Custody of Ohio Mental Defectives."

Open meeting of the Conference held Thursday night was largely attended. Luncheon clubs of the churches and local welfare organizations being well represented. Arthur Guild of Toledo, secretary of the Toledo Social Service Federation gave a short talk on "Ohio Council of Family Social Work." Miss Alice Hill, special investigator of the Russell Sage Foundation, introduced Homer Borst of Indianapolis, noted philanthropist. He gave the principal address of the evening on "Family Social Work."

The meetings were well attended. Motive of the conferences is to acquaint rural communities with what national and city organizations are doing to forward welfare work.

JEALOUSY IS CHARGED IN ANSWER TO DIVORCE SUIT

Green eyed monster, jealousy, broke up the home life of Radena Fitzsimmons, 818 St. John's-av., she alleges in a cross petition, in answer to divorce action instituted by Paul Fitzsimmons, clerk.

Whenever the wife let her eyes stray and even so much as glanced at another man, Fitzsimmons heaped abuse upon her, she asserts. Often he threatened to strike her with his fist and on occasions did so, she declares. The couple parted October 24, when Fitzsimmons is alleged to have mortgaged the furniture for $50 and fled to Toledo. His wife has since caused his arrest thru the Lucas-co humane society.

There is one child, Paul Wesley, seven, living with the mother. Fitzsimmons is his original petitioner accused his wife of having good times with other men. They were married in 1912.

GLOOM IS SEEN BY FORECASTER

Gloomy conditions Friday, instead of rain or snow, were substituted at the last minute by the forecaster, or else he simply missed it in framing his prediction for the day.

At any rate, up to noon, there had been nothing that could be termed rain or snow, but the sun was hidden and bid fair to stay out of sight during the remainder of the day.

Cloudy, with probable rain in south and rain or snow in north portions tonight and Saturday; warmer in south portion tonight. Colder in extreme north part of Ohio Saturday.

There's a wide variety of conditions to choose from. Take your choice and be satisfied with what you really get. With a range of possibilities such as are outlined by the forecaster, there should be little or no trouble about the prognosticator hitting it somewhere along the line.

Ted had decided to take a chance on skipping over the golf course this day, doing the unusual, but was impelled to hesitation when he scanned the weatherman's offering and detected evidence of moisture in the air in a marked manner.

Consequently, the golf course at the Shawnee Country club will not witness the presence of the weather mascot this day.

SCHOOL PLAY TONIGHT
"Hurry, Hurry, Hurry" will be presented by the Merrie Players of South high school, tonight at 8 o'clock, at the Central high auditorium. The comedy was written by LeRoy Arnold and is in three acts. A one act comedy "Sauce for the Goulin," will precede the play. The high school orchestra will furnish music.

RATES EXPLAINED

Ohio Power Co. Will Meet Local Consumers

An afternoon conference between members of the city commission, officers of the Ohio Power Co. and consumers of electric power and steam heat will be held in the commission chambers Friday afternoon.

New tariffs established by the Ohio Power Co. will be explained to the consumers and an attempt made to show why a few consumers are being forced to pay somewhat higher costs than in other years, it was said.

It is claimed by the power company that the tariffs as enforced by the Ohio Electric Co. were unscientific and on certain classes of business the company lost heavily while on other classes large profits were made.

Under the plan of rates as announced by the Ohio Power Co. about 92 per cent of the consumers will be given lower rates while eight per cent will be forced to pay their fair share.

In order that all consumers may be fully informed as to the true costs and reasons why the increase in charges has been necessary this public meeting is being held, it was said.

An invitation has been extended by the city to all power and heat users to attend the conference.

WAPAKONETA MAN DIES
Alois John Seifert, 77, lifelong resident of Anguila-co, died at his home in Wapakoneta. He was a truck mason.

MOTOR VEHICLES COLLIDE
The Blithum and Sugar Creek turnpike, driven by Robert Runnells, and an auto in charge of G. J. Strayer, of Elletts, were slightly damaged when they collided at Market and Elizabeths Friday noon. Neither driver was injured.

DELPHOS RESIDENT DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Death of Henry Heyd, 64, occurred at 3:30 p. m. Thursday at his home, W. Fourth-st., Delphos, following an illness of eight weeks from cancer.

He was an employee of the Delphos Manufacturing Co. and was engaged in agricultural pursuits until four years ago, when he moved from the farm to Delphos.

Besides the wife, Luzilla, he leaves three children, Mrs. Pearl Hunt, near Lima; Mrs. Mary Musser and Mrs. Harley Chamberlain, Delphos; also a sister and a brother, Mrs. Elmer Hickerson, Fostoria, and Enos Heyd, Columbus Grove. There are 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at the Ottawa River chapel, 12 miles northeast of Delphos. The cortege will leave the home at 1 p. m. Interment in Ottawa River cemetery.

MISREPRESENTATION IN SALE OF SEX BOOKS IS CHARGED

Police have been asked to investigate several peddlers who are said to be selling books on sexology, claiming that they are representing the Lima board of health, C. A. Blingham, city manager, said Friday.

Complaints to the city and the Board of Commerce have shown that the peddlers are misrepresenting their goods and that the board of health has never been called to pass on the books being sold, Blingham declared.

PETITIONED REJECTED

Petition presented to the county commissioners by Sugar Creek farmers, asking that the "links" be taken out of Sandy Point-rd near a cemetery off the Buryus-rd, was turned down Thursday. The damages resulting from the improvement made its cost prohibitive, commissioners held.

BROWN IS FREED

Delphos Youth Wrongfully Accused of Forgery

Harold Brown, Delphos youth, arrested on request of Kenton authorities, was taken to the Hardin-co city Wednesday as a forger suspect, but upon being quizzed in Mayor Ochs' court, was discharged. It was found that it was a case of mistaken identity and that the Delphos boy was not the party wanted.

Charles Whitmore, 15, of Kenton, had been arrested, charged with three forgeries. He cleared two of the cases and asserted that Walter Brown of Delphos was guilty of the third. After Brown had been taken to Kenton, he was not identified by Whitmore. Brown was released.

Whitmore later admitted that he was guilty of the offense he charged to Brown. He traveled last summer with a merry-go-round, in company with a boy named Walter Brown, whom he said he believed lived in Delphos.

FORMER LIMA PRISONER UNDER TEST FOR SANITY

First of a series of examinations to test the sanity of Fred Goettingling, former prisoner in the Lima state hospital and confessed murderer of Harry Keim, Cleveland hardware merchant, was made Friday by three physicians commissioned by Common Pleas Judge Walther, with the consent of the defense and County Prosecutor Stanton. Goettingling, three times declared insane during previous prison terms and three times released from state hospitals as "cured," is scheduled to go on trial for Keim's murder before Judge Walther Monday.

INSTITUTE FOR ELIDA
Program for the Elida farmer's institute will be outlined by the committee in charge at a meeting Friday night in the Elida school house, 11. J. Ridge, agent, announced Friday. The institute will be held February 12 and 13.

PROSPECT OF 700 MEMBERS FOR FARM BUREAU IS SEEN

Total of more than 500 members for the Farm Bureau of Allen-co signed up to date will be the report of the campaign committee to bureau board of directors Saturday at 1 p. m.

As this total has been secured in nine of the 12 townships of the county and there is still a large amount of work to be done, it is believed that the previous membership of 700 will be exceeded.

Workers visited farmers in August, Marion and Monroe-tps this week. Next week Marion-tp will be completed and the workers will start in Perry, Shawnee and Sugar Creek-tps, W. R. Price, president, said Friday.

DR. B. M. BROWN DEAD

THIRD PARTY IS ORGANIZED

Will Function in Ohio As Progressive Body

COLUMBUS.—(United Press)—Third party, for which a movement was launched at the convention of "committee of 48" followers here Thursday, will function in Ohio as the progressive party, it was decided.

Before closing the conference Thursday night, delegates formed the nucleus of a state organization committee, naming E. B. Lane, Toledo, acting chairman. Other members are:

Mrs. Harriet Schwartz, Columbus, acting secretary; N. R. Voris, Middletown; S. B. Coleman, Oberlin; and Dr. E. W. Walz, Cleveland.

It is planned to continue organization of the committee until all of the 38 counties are represented. Other states are to be similarly organized in advance of a national convention at which effort will be made to consolidate the progressive and liberal movements in various states into one party for the 1924 campaign.

The conference here endorsed the platform of the "committee of 48" which declares for public control of natural resources, public ownership of transportation and communication lines, and equal economic, legal, civil and political rights for all citizens.

MISSIONARY FROM INDIA.—Mrs. Adah Burkholder, missionary from India, will speak at the Second Baptist church, Sunday night at 7:30. She will tell of the missionary work being done in India. After completing her theological studies at Boston Seminary, Mrs. Burkholder will return to India and resume her studies.

STUDENTS STUDY SHAKESPEARE.—History and actual application of the laws as contained in the Shakespearean work, "The Merchant of Venice," were discussed in a literary program by sophomores of St. John's high school, Delphos, Thursday afternoon. The program was conducted exclusively by students. A scene from each act of "The Merchant of Venice" was dramatized.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS.—Martha, aged four years, daughter of C. B. Coats, of Blain, Van Wert co., died from burns received when a lamp was overturned and her clothing ignited.

DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED.—Divorce action brought in common pleas court by Louise Delph against Earl C. Delph, machinist, S. Elizabethtown, was dismissed by agreement in compromise filed Friday.

SEEKS AID FOR MISSION.—Rev. Father Langern, a member of the Catholic board for mission work among colored people, will visit Lima Sunday and take part in all services at St. John's church, S. Main-st., according to announcement made by Rev. Leopold Blumhagen, the pastor.

SCHOOL PLAY PLANNED.—Books for the annual play, "Coming Out of the Kitchen," are being distributed to the Troubadour Dramatic society this week. Members will decide on the parts for which they desire to compete and study them over the week-end. Tryouts will be had Monday and after the cast is chosen intensive work for the play will be started.

LOUIS MILLS FUNERAL.—Brief funeral services for James Louis Mills, 33, Civil War veteran, who died Thursday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Hinkley, 819 E. Vine-st., will be held Sunday at 12:30 p. m. at the residence. The body will be taken to Spencerville, where final services will be held at the Christian church. Burial in the Spencerville cemetery.

MAYO IN CHURCH.—First presentations of a motion picture ever given at the Trinity M. E. church will be shown at 4:15 and 7:30 p. m. in the main church auditorium. Friday and Saturday is "The Christian Life" produced by the Church Film company and reserved especially for church showings.

WILL DISCUSS FAIR.—Important business matters will be discussed Friday night by stockholders of the Delphos Fair-county fair association at a meeting at the Lang shoe store. Finance committee of the association will be instructed to proceed with plans to float the 1923 event in September and the question of state aid will be taken up.

BAKER OBSEQUIES.—Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine Baker, 88, who died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. A. Zimmerman, 703 N. West-st., will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the residence. Interment in Woodlawn.

EXECUTOR NAMED.—John L. Liss, Spencerville, who appointed executor of the estate of Mrs. Sarah Armbruster, Spencerville, at a hearing in probate court Friday. Bond was fixed in the sum of $1,000.

ADMINISTRATOR NAMED.—Mrs. Beulah Seyler, Gomer, was Friday appointed administratrix of the estate of her father, Daniel Pugh, Gomer, who died January 15. Value of property is stated as $2,000.

AUTO IS ABANDONED.—A 1923 touring car was abandoned Thursday night at Teah and Canals, Delphos, and police are unable to find the owner. The car is without license or other means of identification.

PESTS DESTROYED.—The Nelson Station Literary Society at the end of a "pest" hunt declared rodents and the like destroyed would have caused $25,000, to growing crops in this vicinity.

TENNESSEE MAN FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING FIVE

BLOUNTSVILLE, Tenn.—A verdict of guilty in the first degree was returned by a circuit court jury here today against Ben Burchfield, charged with killing five members of his household with an ax.

The verdict carries with it a sentence of death in the electric chair. Burchfield broke down when the verdict was read. His aged father sought to comfort him.

Victims of the murder were Burchfield's wife, his 12-year-old son and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson and their two-year-old son. All were found dead in their beds which had been set afire.

The state alleged Burchfield slew the five because his wife had threatened to divorce him at the instance of the Wilsons.

NEW BOARD URGED

Institutional Consolidation Recommended by Donahay

COLUMBUS.—(United Press)—Governor Donahay's first supplemental message to the legislature, read by clerks late yesterday, included the following recommendations:

1.—That all penal, correctional and charitable institutions be placed under control of a bi-partisan board, abolishing the one-man welfare director system.

2.—That only "hardened criminals" be kept at the state penitentiary allowing the others to "produce food for the other state institutions" by working on the London prison farm.

3.—That the state build a cement factory where prisoners would be put to work making material for state highways.

4.—That members of the board of pardons and paroles give all their time to consideration and investigation of applications.

The governor's recommendations are to be referred to committees dealing with the subject mentioned.

DR. HILL TILL.—Rev. J. Wesley Hill, of New York chairman of the Lincoln Memorial institute, will be unable to speak Monday at the Delphos Kivans club luncheon because of illness, according to a telegram received Friday by Dr. D. J. Clark, president.

PILOTLESS PLANE A REALITY

Automatic Air Bombing Service Development Announced

BOSTON.—(Associated Press)—A bombing air service that needs no pilots has been developed. Major General Mason M. Patrick, head of the army air forces, announces, in a series of addresses during a two-day visit here General Patrick has described the advance in aviation, among them the "automatic air service."

The automatic service has been so highly developed, General Patrick asserts, that even now it would be possible to send pilotless planes with a cargo of bombs from Boston to New York at a given altitude and on a set course at pre-arranged speed which at a given time and at a predetermined place would discharge the devastating cargo. A whole fleet of airplanes similarly might be operated with exactness, all by radio, he says.

Dirigibles to be filled with helium which would be able to fly to the North Pole and back without alighting are now being planned. They will act as mother ships for airplanes, of which they will carry several each. The airplanes will be caught and held while the dirigible is in flight by a device attached to the ship which experiments have proved practicable.

MOOSE FIGHT NARCOTICS.—Lima Lodge of Moose Thursday night adopted a resolution requesting President Harding to call an international conference for the purpose of formulating plans for combating the narcotic drug habit in all countries. Moose lodges all over the country are taking similar action.

INJUNCTION DISMISSED.—An old injunction filed in common pleas court by O. J. Roush, former Chief of Police, seeking to restrain Frank A. Burkhardt, former mayor from removing him from office, was dismissed in common pleas court Friday. A hearing had never been held in the matter.

QUEEN VICTORIA STILL REGARDED AS RULER

DAWSON, Y. T.—Discovery of a species of mountain sheep with red stripes on their backs and with straight horns has disclosed that the Indians in the village of Musroikuk, 15 miles north of Fort Yukon, "the American territory, still regard Queen Victoria as their ruler."

The late Hudson Stuck, archdeacon of the Yukon in the American Episcopal church, attempted to persuade them that the boundary line between Alaska and Canada had shifted and that they owed allegiance to the great father at Washington. They did not seem to understand.

EX-KAISER'S MARRIAGE DECLARED FAILURE

LONDON.—The correspondent of the Yorkshire Evening News, writing to his paper from Doorn, says: "In spite of elaborate efforts to hide the truth, I have discovered that the second marriage of the former German Emperor has been a complete failure and that at the present moment he is living in one part of the castle while his wife and her children are in another. I am told that a very few weeks sufficed to bring about the breakdown."

Those who are near the ex-kaiser have been struck by the grave alteration not only in his mood but in his character. He is said to have been affected very unfortunately by the operation for gland transference he underwent before his second marriage. His own children have not forgiven him for the second marriage and his step children avoid him."

CAMPAIGN TO COMPLETE BONUS PAYMENT OPENED

COLUMBUS.—A campaign to complete payment of the state bonus to the 11,000 ex-soldiers of Ohio who have not yet received their compensation was announced today by the sinking fund trustees composed of State Auditor Tracy, Attorney General Crabbe and Secretary of State Brown.

County assessors in counties where there remain less than 100 applicants whose claims have not been settled, have been asked to call meetings of the claimants and other ex-service men in an attempt to furnish all information available.

Special representatives of the sinking fund trustees and the department of adjusted compensation will be sent to counties where there are more than 100 unpaid claims.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK.—Raw sugar firm 3-16 bid for spot Cubas cost and freight, equal to 5.09 for centrifugal. Raw sugar futures 2 to 2 points net higher. In refined there was only moderate inquiry reported.

MANILA.—(Associated Press).—One ship of the divided fleet of Russian ships, carrying anti-Joblovsk refugees from Vladivostok, has been wrecked off the coast of Formosa according to an unverified report received here.

PRESENT DAY RING CHAMPS FAIL TO BECOME POPULAR

NEW YORK — James J. Corbett, of all the former heavyweight title holders, perhaps had the most color, and he still retains it. His extreme popularity has kept him before the public years after he lost his title and has given him a most comfortable living on the stage.

Corbett, Jack Johnson and Jess Willard were at the ringside for a heavyweight contest in Madison Square Garden recently and Corbett was easily the biggest one of the three.

Johnson had not chosen notoriety for popularity, might still be a big figure in the ring world. He had a lot of color in his day, but his mistakes ruined him.

Willard never was popular. He always was of a sort of sour disposition and always gave the impression that he was about to bark when he was approached. His attitude has changed somewhat since he dropped the title and there may be a reason why he tries to be pleasant now.

Jeffries was a bear in disposition and he was never a popular public figure outside of ring circles. "John L." had a lot of color and so did

Bob Fitzsimmons, but they have passed out of the picture.

Jack Dempsey might have been the most popular of all the heavyweight champions. He might have made an undying name for himself had he been inclined differently in 1917. As long as Dempsey lives, however, his war record will be held against him and it will go down on the books after he has gone.

Taken as a whole the present bunch of champions are a colorless lot.

Dempsey and Benny Leonard seem more anxious to become champions of the stage than hero kings of the ring.

Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane are faded out from a long period of hiding away from the spotlight.

Mickey Walker at present is merely tolerated and not considered as much of a champion, thru the general belief that he is to be "taken" the first time he meets a good welterweight.

Joe Lynch had the makings of becoming a popular champion, until he started doing things that his friends bet he wouldn't do.

Little Pancho Villa, the flyweight title holder, is the only colorful one of the bunch and he is no eye knocker. He does give a show every time he gets in the ring and he is in there plenty.

Gaining popularity or acquiring color perhaps is not a worry to any of the champions. Getting the purse is the primary object and it is not necessary to become a public idol to get big money from the promoters.

Some of the biggest money makers in the ring got big purses because they drew thousands of fans to every fight, in the hope of seeing them knocked out.

Color is a big asset in any line of sport. Babe Ruth, perhaps, has more of it than any other athlete of the present day.

Sisler and Hornsby are greater ball players, but they haven't the personality of Ruth and they lack the instinct of a showman.

Mac Aldrich was one of Yale's greatest football players and Charley Buell was one of Harvard's most illustrious stars. Aldrich had color and Buell was a drab individual on the field. Aldrich made the

All-American; Buell didn't.

Jim Thorpe was one of the greatest of all-around athletes ever produced. Bob LeGendre and Harrison Thomson may be almost as good today, and they are probably, but they will never be classed with the Indian Thorpe had the color and the popular appeal.

Color is hard to define as it is applied to that particular trait of personality in an athlete. It might be defined, however, in its application to professional sport as the quality which makes a $100 athlete worth $1,000.

DARTMOUTH GRID STAR ALSO SHINES AT HOCKEY

LOYD "FUDGE" NEIDLINGER

HANOVER, N. H. — Lloyd "Fudge" Neidlinger, out-standing star of Dartmouth's 1922 football team, is a versatile athlete.

With the gridiron sport more in memory, Neidlinger has turned his attention to hockey. In football he starred at tackle. In hockey he hopes to block the Dartmouth cage with his massive frame, as he plays goal.

Neidlinger was picked as tackle on Walter Camp's second team. Many of the experts selected him as a first choice for tackle on their All-America eleven.

Neidlinger's greatest game of the football season was against Harvard. In that contest he stopped George Owen, Harvard star, to a whisper. Boston critics were unanimous in calling him the best tackle of the season.

NO. 24—THE COSTLIEST PINCH HIT I EVER SAW

Bill Carrigan, a dangerous batter, always at his best in a pinch, broke up a batting rally quicker than I have ever seen a player turn such a trick.

Usually some sensational fielding play or effective pinch pitching spoils a batting rally. Seldom does the batter, the pinch hitter, come to the assistance of the team in the field.

I have umpired any number of games in which a pinch pitcher would break up a rally on one pitched ball. Usually in such cases two were out and the batsman would be retired on the first ball pitched by the relief pitcher. I have several times seen double plays made on the first ball delivered by a relief pitcher, retiring the side.

to Bill Carrigan, in the role of pinch batsman, goes the credit of breaking up a promising rally on one hard-hit ball.

Boston was playing in New York. The Boston team was trailing by several runs and didn't seem to have much of a chance when the first half of the ninth opened. Then things began to happen.

The first three men up reached first in safety, filling the bases with no one out. Things began to brighten up for Boston. There seemed to be a chance to win a game that apparently was hopelessly lost.

It was the pitcher's turn to bat. Few pitchers are good hitters. Bill Carrigan was selected to act as pinch hitter and break up the old ball game. That is just what Carrigan did, but with reverse English. Instead of helping Boston, Bill played right into the hands of New York.

How did Bill do such a thing? Listen.

Apparently long before he reached the plate, Carrigan had decided to hit the first pitched ball if it was over. The ball was a beauty—right over the heart of the plate.

Carrigan took a healthy cut at the ball as the shortstop made a dash for second to drive the runner back. The pitcher, instead of delaying his delivery so that the shortstop could get back to his position, pitched the ball at what seemed a moment's notice.

If Carrigan had been able to hit through the spot vacated, all would have been lovely. Instead, he drove a liner a few feet to the shortstop's side of second base.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICE FOR DOLA, ROBINSON

Orders have been transmitted to Pennsylvania Railroad officials by the state public utilities commission, calling upon them to give the same amount of train service to the villages of Dola and Robinson as before the two accommodation trains were annulled.

In the future each of the towns are to give stops for trains 1007 and 40, giving them the same service as Ada, Lafayette and the other towns along the railroad lines.

and then threw to first, completing a triple play.

In all my experience it is the only time I ever saw a pinch batter hit into a triple play on the first ball pitched.

HARROD LOSES

Teamwork and accuracy in shooting baskets were in the main responsible for the win over Harrod for the Lima Business College quintet Thursday night on the score of 23 to 17.

After jumping the lead shortly after the start of the game, the L. B. C. outfit was never topped. The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 8, and during the second half of the game, the local aggregation held their six point lead all the time.

Next Tuesday, the L. B. C. five plays at Lewistown.

Lineup and Summary:

L. B. C. Harrod

Crawford..... F..... Alex Marquis..... F..... Edwin O'Connor..... G..... Hawie Brown..... G..... H. Hall

Substitutions—Zapp for Crawford, Spees for Waitman. Field goals—Crawford 1, Marquis 4, O'Connor 4, Waitman 1, Rev. 2, Hawk 3, H. Hall 1, R. Hall 1. Free throws—Waitman 3, R. Hall 3.

ECKERSALL IS PRAISED

Who is the greatest quarterback in the history of football? There is a real problem for you. In modern football the quarterback has more or less lost his identity—he is just a back.

In the old days the quarterback handled practically every pass from center, prior to slipping to some other player for a thrust at the line or a run around the end. It was a real job.

Old-time fans and players of the west lean to Walter Eckersall as just about the greatest quarter that ever trod the gridiron. And justly so, because Eckersall was even more than a tri- throat player—he could do everything.

Eckersall was fast, a clever dodger, and a brilliant man in an open field. Besides all these assets he possessed a real football head. On defense he was a hard, sure tackler.

He once turned a trick on the mighty "Willie" Heston which no one else ever accomplished, bringing Heston down from behind after the Michigan star had broken loose into an almost clear field, with Graver as interference. Eckersall the only barrier to the goal line, crashed into the Wolverine runners, spilled Graver and then brought Heston to a halt.

That play still ranks as one of the best individual defensive efforts in the middle west.

Twice during his football career Eckersall booted five field goals in a game, and against Wisconsin in 1904 he took the ball from the kicker and dashed 105 yards through the entire Badger team for a touchdown.

LEGION AUXILIARY PLANS TO DOUBLE MEMBERSHIP

Plans for doubling the present membership of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion will be discussed at a bi-monthly meeting to be held in Memorial hall, Friday night. Mrs. A. E. Gale is president of the organization, composed of sisters, wives, daughters and mothers of world war veterans.

Additional plans for the reception of Alvin Owsley of Texas, National Legion commander, February 24, will be made at a meeting of William Paul Gallagher Post No. 96 in the Harper building, Friday night.

COPELAND COMPANY FIRST TEST WELL READY TO CASE

Everything is ready for the casing of the first test well being drilled by the Copeland Oil company on the Copeland farm between New Hampshire and St. Johns, N. L. Allen, treasurer, announced Friday.

This company has approximately $,000 acres under lease in this territory. At the time of the oil boom this land was not leased and as large quantities of oil have been found around the tract, the company is looking for a good producer.

Officers of the company, besides Allen, are John S. Neuman, manager; J. M. Stotts, secretary, E. W. Mosier, president.

DELPHOS NOW LIKES LEAGUE

Hot stove leagues are teeming with industry in Delphos and faning bees are all the rage as days grow longer and the 1923 baseball season looms closer.

The diamond movement for the ensuing season in Delphos has been given impetus thru possibility of the American Legion club becoming a member of the league that will include all representative clubs in this section of the state.

The club had information, chiefly the clubs that have already entered the league, is sought by the American Legion, which will again foster the club, before further action is taken.

The dope, secured at the conference Sunday in Lima by Glenn Shridner, new manager, and Dr. G. L. McKenzie, secretary-treasurer of the organization, will be presented to the legionaires soon, possibly next week, according to intimation Wednesday night.

Delphos legionaires heretofore were opposed to the league, but since its avowed policy is to straighten out affairs in this district and to promote the national pastime for benefit of all representative teams, there has been a change of heart.

Manager Shridner declared it is his purpose to promote the Delphos club on a conservative yet constructive basis. Local talent will receive every chance to make good with the club. Such local diamond artists as Guy Tilton, pitcher; Carl Imber, infielder; Richard Lindemann and Albert Boniface, outfielders, and others, will be given their chance. The talent has been increased by Walter Remlinger, Ottoville, and Octavia star, changing his business interests to Delphos. Remlinger, a drugist, is reported a first-class semi-pro player.

CELINA GAME POSTPONED

A last minute change of schedule at St. Johns, announced Thursday night, postponed the Celina game until next Wednesday.

Instead of remaining idle Friday night, however, the Southside quintet will travel to Wauseon.

The only game in Lima will be between St. Rose and University of Dayton High eager visitors are said to have a wonderful record and the game is expected to draw the largest crowd of the year.

Central and South will travel northward, the Red and Green playing Findlay, while South stays at Bluffton.

CONTINUE TO TALK FIGHT

NEW YORK.—Negotiations will be continued today between Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, and several boxing promoters who are anxious to stage several championship bouts with the title holder and some of his challengers next summer. Despite the six day option Kearns sold yesterday to Tex Rickard, one of the promoters, binding the champion from accepting for that period any offer that may be made by the other bidders for the champion's services, it is expected that "conversations" will ensue today.

Kearns probably will confer with Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox, and Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker for the club which has a license to stage bouts at the Polo Grounds and perhaps he will see Rickard again today. At any rate a definite agreement will be made with no one except the latter.

COLLEGIANS TO STAY HOME

NEW YORK.—While the United States will send a team of amateur golfers to compete in the British amateur, it is a certainty that it will not comprise the cream of the talent.

Jesse Sweetser, winner of the U. S. amateur title at Brookline, Mass., last year and Bobby Jones and Rudy Knepper, who also worked up to the semi-finals, are not being figured on in the makeup of the team.

Central Calls For Track men

With spring weather close at hand Central High athletes are beginning to turn their attention to track.

Altho this is only the second year in which track is designated as a valedictory sport the interest and enthusiasm shown last year is prompting earlier participation in the sport.

At a meeting last night those who are going to try for the team were asked to designate in what events they wished to compete. Coach Theibert expects to decide from this list just what places are unfilled and then get candidates for those certain places.

No work will be started in the way of real training for another month but weight men will work out shoulder and neck muscles a couple of hours each week in the gym.

MORE RIGHTS FOR LAWYERS URGED

Election Law Changes Advocated by Bar Association Head

WOULD NOMINATE JUDGES

Proposed at Convention in Session at Columbus

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press)

Declaring "we have taken the judges out of politics by putting them into politics more deeply than ever," George B. Harris, Cleveland, president of the Ohio State Bar Association, in his annual address today at the midwinter meeting, advanced legislation which he said would result in a better judiciary.

He would have the state law amended to permit state, district, and local bar associations to nominate one candidate for each judicial office.

He would have the legislature pass a law to the effect that when a judge of the supreme court, or the court of appeals has served an elective term of six years, he shall, if re-elected, serve 12 years.

JUDICIAL COUNCIL

There should be legislation, he asserted, creating a judicial council composed of nine members, three of whom might be the chief justice and two of his associates on the supreme bench of the state, a chief justice of the court of appeals, presidents of the common pleas, and probate judges associations, and three attorneys, chosen by the president of the State Bar Association. "The council's duty, Mr. Harris went on, would be to study the organization, rules and methods of procedure and practice of the judicial system of the state, and the results produced by that system and its various parts."

"The correct practice, however," he continued, "is the appointment of all judges to hold office during life of good behavior, but such a method seems to be impossible."

"Nowadays, to a great degree, the judges select themselves, and nobody knows how they are elected. Chance contributes about as much as any other element. For ten years, the bar and the public have been witnessing the effects of this haphazardness. Is it not now time for the profession to act?"

The general assembly, Mr. Harris said, has legal power to make the changes he recommends. He quoted figures to show that the supreme courts in states where members are either elected for long terms, or appointed for life, are cited for precedent to a much greater degree than in states where the judges' terms are comparatively short.

In 1910, he said, Ohio decisions stood eleventh in order of citation; in 1916, twenty-first, and in 1921, twenty-third.

PRESENT DAY RING CHAMPS FAIL TO BECOME POPULAR

NEW YORK — James J. Corbett, of all the former heavyweight title holders perhaps had the most color, and he still retains it. His extreme popularity has kept him before the public eye after he lost his title and has given him a most comfortable living on the stage.

Corbett, Jack Johnson and Jess Willard were at the ringside for a heavyweight contest in Madison Square Garden recently and Corbett was easily the biggest one of the three.

Johnson had not chosen notoriety for popularity, might still be a big figure in the pug world. He had a lot of color in his day, but his mistakes ruined him.

Willard never was popular. He always was of a sort of sour disposition and always gave the impression that he was about to bark when he was approached. His attitude has changed somewhat since he dropped the title and there may be a reason why he tries to be pleasant now.

Jeffries was a bear in disposition and he was never a popular public figure outside of ring circles. "John L." had a lot of color and so did

Bob Fitzsimmons, but they have passed out of the picture.

Jack Dempsey might have been the most popular of all the heavyweight champions. He might have made an undying name for himself had he been inclined differently in 1917. As long as Dempsey lives, however, his war record will be held against him and it will go down on the books after he has gone.

Taken as a whole the present bunch of champions are a colorless lot. Dempsey and Benny Leonard seem more anxious to become champions of the stage than heroes of the ring.

Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane are faded out from a long period of hiding away from the spotlight.

Mickey Walker at present is merely tolerated and not considered as much of a champion, thru the general belief that he is to be "taken" the first time he meets a good welterweight.

Joe Lynch had the makings of becoming a popular champion, until he started doing things that his friends bet he wouldn't do.

Little Pancho Villa, the flyweight title holder, is the only colorful one of the bunch and he is an eye knocker. He does give a show every time he gets in the ring and he is in there plenty.

Gaining popularity or acquiring color perhaps is not a worry to any of the champions. Getting the purse is the primary object and it is not necessary to become a public idol to get big money from the promoters.

Some of the biggest money makers in the ring got big purses because they drew thousands of fans to every fight, in the hope of seeing them knocked out.

Color is a big asset in any line of sport. Babe Ruth, perhaps, has more of it than any other athlete of the present day.

Slater and Hornsby are greater ball players, but they haven't the personality of Ruth and they lack the instinct of a showman.

Mac Aldrich was one of Yale's greatest football players and Charley Buell was one of Harvard's most illustrious stars. Aldrich had color and Buell was a drab individual on the field. Aldrich made the

All-American; Buell didn't.

Jim Thorpe was one of the greatest of all-around athletes ever produced. Bob LeGendre and Harrison Thomson may be almost as good today, and they are probably, but they will never be classed with the Indian Thorpe had the color and the popular appeal.

Color is hard to define as it is applied to that particular trait of personality in an athlete. It might be defined, however, in its application to professional sport as the quality which makes a $100 athlete worth $1,000.

DARTMOUTH GRID STAR ALSO SHINES AT HOCKEY

LLOYD "PUDDY" NEIDLINGER

HANOVER, N. H. — Lloyd "Pudge" Neidlinger, out-standing star of Dartmouth's 1922 football team, is a versatile athlete.

With the gridiron sport merely a memory, Neidlinger has turned his attention to hockey. In football he starred at tackle. In hockey he hopes to block the Dartmouth cage with his massive frame, as he plays goal.

Neidlinger was picked as tackle on Walter Camp's second team. Many of the experts selected him as a first choice for tackle on their All-America eleven.

Neidlinger's greatest game of the football season was against Harvard. In that contest he stopped George Owen, Harvard star, to a whistle. Boston critics were unanimous in calling him the best tackle of the season.

BULLSEYES of BASEBALL

NO. 24—THE COSTLIEST PINCH HIT I EVER SAW

Bill Carrigan, a dangerous batter, always at his best in a pinch, broke up a batting rally quicker than I have ever seen a player turn such a trick.

Had the shortstop been playing properly it would have been a clean hit. Instead, he ran directly into the path of the ball, made an easy catch, stepping on second retired the original occupant of that base.

Usually some sensational fielding play or effective pinch pitching spoils a batting rally. Seldom does the batter, the pinch hitter, come to the assistance of the team in the field.

I have amplified many number of games in which a pinch pitcher would break up a rally on one pitched ball. Usually in such cases two were out and the batsman would be retired on the first ball pitched by the relief pitcher. I have several times seen double plays made on the first ball delivered by a relief pitcher retiring the side.

To Bill Carrigan, in the role of pinch batsman, goes the credit of breaking up a promising rally on one hard-hit ball.

Boston was playing in New York. The Boston team was trailing by several runs and didn't seem to have much of a chance when the first half of the ninth opened. Then things began to happen.

The first three men up reached first in safety, filling the bases with no one out. Things began to brighten up for Boston. There seemed to be a chance to win a game that apparently was hopelessly lost.

It was the pitcher's turn to bat. Few pitchers are good hitters. Bill Carrigan was selected to act as pinch hitter and break up the old ball game. That is just what Carrigan did, but with reverse English. Instead of helping Boston, Bill retired right into the hands of New York.

How did Bill do such a thing? Evidently long before he reached the plate, Carrigan had decided to hit the first pitched ball if it was over. The ball was a beauty—right over the heart of the plate.

Carrigan took a hearty cut at the ball as the slingshot made a dash for second to drive the runner back. The pitcher, instead of delaying his delivery so that the shortstop could get back to his position, pitched the ball at what seemed a normal time.

Carrigan had been able to hit through the spot wanted, all would have been lovely. Instead, he drove a liner a few feet to the shortstop's side of second base.

In the future each of the towns are to be tag stops for trains 1007 and 40, giving them the same service as Ada, Lafayette and the other towns along the railroad lines.

Orders have been transmitted to Pennsylvania Railroad officials by the state public utilities commission, calling upon them to give the same amount of train service to the villages of Dola and Robinson as before the two accommodations trains were annulled.

HARROD LOSES

Teamwork and accuracy in shooting baskets were in the main responsible for the win over Harrod for the Lima Business College quintet Thursday night by the score of 23 to 17.

After jumping the lead shortly after the start of the game, the L. B. C. outfit was never topped. The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 8, and during the second half of the game, the local aggregation held their six point lead all the time.

Next Tuesday, the L. B. C. five plays at Lewistown.

Lineup and Summary:

L. B. C. Harrod

Crawford..... F..... Rex Marquis..... F..... Ewing O'Connor..... C..... Hawk Brown..... G..... H. Hall

Waltman 1, Rev. 2, Hawk 3, H. Hall 1, R. Hall 1. Free throws: Waltman 3, R. Hall 3.

Who is the greatest quarterback in the history of football?

There is a real problem for you. In modern football the quarterback has more or less lost his identity—he is just a back.

In the old days the quarterback handled practically every pass from center, prior to slipping to some other player for a thrust at the line or a run around the end. It was a real job.

Old-time fans and players of the west want to Walter Eckersall as just about the greatest quarter that ever lived. And justly so, because Eckersall was even more than a trier; threat player—he could do everything.

Eckersall was fast, a clever dodger, and a brilliant man in an open field. Besides all these assets, he possessed a real football head. On defense he was a hard, sure tackler.

He once turned a trick on the mighty "Willie" Heston which no one else ever accomplished, bringing Heston down from behind after the Michigan star had broken loose into an almost clear field, with Graver as interference. Eckersall the only barrier to the goal line, crashed into the Wolverine runners, spilled Graver and then brought Heston to the turf.

That play still ranks as one of the best individual defensive efforts in the middle west.

Twice during his football career Eckersall booted five field goals in a game, and against Wisconsin in 1904 he took the ball from the kick-off and dashed 105 yards through the entire Badger team for a touchdown.

DELPHOS NOW LIKES LEAGUE

Hot stove leagues are teeming with industry in Delphos and fanning bees are all the rage as days grow longer and the 1923 baseball season looms closer.

The diamond movement for the ensuing season in Delphos has been given impetus thru possibility of the American Legion club becoming a member of the league that will include all representative clubs in this section of the state.

To decide information, chiefly the clubs that have already entered the league, is sought by the Delphos Legion, which will again foster the club, before further action is taken.

The day secured at the conference Sunday in Lima by Glenn Shridder, new manager, and Dr. G. L. McKenzie, secretary-treasurer of the organization, will be presented to the legionnaires soon, possibly next week, according to intimation Wednesday night.

Delphos legionnaires heretofore were opposed to the league, but since his avowed policy is to strengthen out affairs in this district and to promote the national pastime for benefit of all representative teams, there has been a change of heart.

Manager Shridder declared it is his purpose to promote the Delphos club on a conservative yet constructive basis. Local talent will receive every chance to make good with the club. Such local diamond artists as Guy Tilton, pitcher; Carl Imber, infielder; Richard Lindemann and Albert Boniface, outfielders, and others, will be given their chance. The talent has been increased by Walter Remlinger, Ottoville and Ottawa star, changing his business interests to Delphos. Remlinger, a druggist, is reported a first-class semi-pro player.

A last minute change of schedule at St. Johns, announced Thursday night, postpones the Celina game until next Wednesday.

COLLEGIANS TO STAY HOME

NEW YORK.—While the United States will send a team of amateur golfers to compete in the British amateur, it is a certainty that it will not comprise the cream of the talent.

Jesse Sweetser, winner of the U. S. amateur title at Brookline, Mass., last year and Bobby Jones and Rudy Knepper, who also worked up to the semi-finals, are not being figured on in the makeup of the team.

True, the services of these three great players are much desired, but May conflicts with the college work of the trio.

Sweetser is at Yale, Jones at Harvard, and Knepper at Princeton. If they made the trip, it would seriously interfere with their studies. Even if they desired to go, it is doubtful if faculty permission would be granted.

All of which makes it seem that the four semi-finalists in the United States amateur of 1922 will not go abroad to represent this country this year.

CONTINUE TO TALK FIGHT

NEW YORK.—Negotiations will be continued today between Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, and several boxing promoters who are anxious to stage several championship bouts with the title holder and some of his challengers next summer.

Despite the six day option Kearns said yesterday to Tex Rickard, one of the promoters, binding the champion from accepting for that period any offer that may be made by the other bidders for the champion's services, it is expected that "conversations" will ensue today.

Kearns probably will confer with Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox, and Tom O'Rourke, match-maker for the club which has a license to stage bouts at the Polo Grounds and perhaps he will see Rickard again today. At any rate a definite agreement will be made with no one except the latter.

Central Calls For Track men

With spring weather close at hand Central High athletes are beginning to turn their attention to track.

Altho this is only the second year in which track is designated as a varsity sport the interest and enthusiasm shown last year is prompting earlier participation in the sport.

At a meeting last night those who are going to try for the team were asked to designate in what events they wished to compete. Coach Theibert expects to decide from this list just what places are unfilled and then get candidates for those certain places.

No work will be started in the way of real training for another month but weight men will work out shoulder and neck muscles a couple of hours each week in the gym.

COPELAND COMPANY FIRST TEST WELL READY TO CASE

Everything is ready for the casing of the first test well being drilled by the Copeland Oil company on the Copeland farm between New Hampshire and St. Johns, M. L. Allen, treasurer, announced Friday.

This company has approximately 3,000 acres under lease in this territory. At the time of the oil boom this land was not leased and as large quantities of oil have been found around the tract, the company is hoping for a good producer.

Officers of the company, besides Allen, are John S. Newman, manager; J. M. Staats, secretary; E. W. Mosier, president.

MORE RIGHTS FOR LAWYERS URGED

Election Law Changes Advocated by Bar Association Head

WOULD NOMINATE JUDGES

Proposed at Convention in Session at Columbus

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press) Declaring "we have taken the judges out of politics by putting them into politics more deeply than ever," George B. Harris, Cleveland, president of the Ohio State Bar Association, in his annual address today at the midwinter meeting, advanced legislation which he said would result in a better judiciary. He would have the state law amended to permit state, district, and local bar associations to nominate one candidate for each judicial office. He would have the legislature pass a law to the effect that when a judge of the supreme court, or the court of appeals has served an elective term of six years, he shall, if re-elected, serve 12 years.

JUDICIAL COUNCIL There should be legislation, he asserted, creating a judicial council composed of nine members, three of whom might be the chief justice and two of his associates on the supreme bench of the state, a chief justice of the court of appeals, presidents of the common pleas, and probate judges associations, and three attorneys, chosen by the president of the State Bar Association. The council's duty, Mr. Harris went on, would be to "study the organization, rules and methods of procedure and practice of the judicial system of the state, and the results produced by that system and its various parts."

"The correct practice, however," he continued, "is the appointment of all judges to hold office during life of good behavior, but such a method seems to be impossible."

"Nowadays, to a great degree, the judges select themselves, and nobody knows how they are elected. Chance contributes about as much as any other element. For ten years, the bar and the public have been witnessing the effects of this travesty. Is it not now time for the profession to act?"

The general assembly, Mr. Harris said, has legal power to make the changes he recommends. He quoted figures to show that the supreme courts in states where members either are elected for long terms, or appointed for life, are cited for precedent to a much greater degree than in states where the judges' terms are comparatively short.

In 1916, he said, Ohio decisions stood eleventh in order of citation; in 1916, twenty-first, and in 1921, twenty-third.

Resinol

does wonders for chafed or irritated skins

"My doctor told me about it and if I couldn't get another jar I wouldn't give this one up for anything."

That is how many people regard Resinol Ointment. It is specially recommended for eczema and other itching skin troubles, but it is also excellent as a general household remedy for burns, scalds, chafings, cold sores, pimples, boils, insect bites, etc.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Shaving Stick contain the Resinol properties and so home should be without these products.

At all druggists.

VAL OF PARADISE

BY VINGIE E. ROE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN HANNON, wealthy ranch owner, his blind wife, Bella, and their beautiful daughter, Val, lived happily together in Hannon's wonderful ranch home, Paradise, Hannon, the greatest power in the money country, loved by his family and hated by his neighbors, is the richest land owner in that section. The wife of Hannon's heart, his wonderful red blood of houses, is the most beautiful girl in the country. Redstar, the king, is beyond comparison. He is an often horse, brought to Paradise by the master after a nervous journey into distant lands, in Hannon's store in Santa Fe, the nearest town to Paradise, which, in game has been running since the night before. BRIDEMAN, man of mystery is winning from all.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Today, as the men steadily lost to Brideman, a shadow darkened the door and a girl stood there. She leaned gracefully against the lintel and smiled, her little head tilted sideways like a bird's, her black eyes roving over every face there with a bold bright glance. She was clad in gay garments of scarlet and black, with a sash of striped silk that hung to her knee at the left, after it had most snugly bound her slender waist in a wide light circle.

At the sound of her light foot at the sill the players looked up—the men with a leer and a laugh and a pointed compliment, the cow-boys with that lively interest which all their ilk feel in womenkind, but Paul Sanchez with a black scowl, for she was his daughter.

"Lolo," he said sharply, "go home—pronto."

But she only leaned more comfortably against the doorpost and smiled at the men.

"Lolo likes company," said Brideman, bustling, "and why shouldn't she, in this glorious town?"

Tell me that, Lolo, said, turning his great face toward the door. But Sanchez was on his feet, his dark face flaming. He lifted an imperious finger and pointed north, and the girl, with a last sideways glance and a pout, slipped gracefully off the step and disappeared.

Sanchez sat down again, picked up his cards and called for a draw, coolly, but there was fire in his black eyes.

And now, as if he lost command of his usually sane judgment, he sat the last of his hand and rose with a bow, his cards thrown on the table.

"Your pleasure, gentlemen," he said. "Drink with me, if Hannonwell will trust me."

Hannonwell behind his worn old hat trusted no one. Moreover he knew that Sanchez was only temporarily broke. So the players left the table with much noise of scraping chairs and jangling spurs and lined up for the fiery refreshment which would have flooded a stranger.

And Lolo, swinging down the little street beneath the oaks and cottonwoods, her slim brown hands in her narrow hips, her black head with its offending dignity, stepped short to stare with wide eyes to where the open road led in from the sage-brush plain.

A great dust was on the level, for many horses had there, fled, houses, she knew, for they poked their dark noses above the dust, even the wind, blowing with a keen freshness, was behind them.

Lolo turned back to watch the oncoming cloud of dust with its potentialities. It came with an increasing sound of thunder, with the rattle and creak of chain and saddle, and presently a band of men rode into the end of the sleepy street and pounded down its length toward Hannonwell's.

They were lean brown chaps to a man, they rode like centaurs, and every man-jack of them carried two guns swinging at his hips. Their garments were good and showed a certain vanity of adornment, such as an ostentation of spotted belts and riding cuffs. But the thing about them that took the eye of every beholder in that land was their horses.

Grand horses they were, wild, ramping, mettlesome creatures all big, all hard as nails from long and strenuous use, and the one that raced ahead was more beautiful than all of them.

And if the horse shone up in sharp contrast among those behind

"STAKE ME," SHE SAID. "I GIVE YOU LEAVE."

him, not less did his rider also.

This was a young man, not over seven and twenty, tall, lean as a bound, the broad shoulders beneath his flannel shirt slipping with muscle, the long hands on his prominent slender as a woman's and as fine-grained, his handsome blue eyes in odd contrast to the darkness of his hair and the smooth dark tan of his cheeks.

The group of newcomers, falling in close together as it from habit, crossed the street to the store, mounted the steps with a clatter of spurs and entered. The leader stood first inside the door and looked around with the sparkling smile that lighted his face as with an inner flame.

The men at the table looked up, and they knew perfectly well, had known for ten minutes, of their arrival, they showed no surprise. Every face there was placid, shallow with an alert indifference. Brideman alone looked keenly over the crowd with an approving glance.

"Hello, boys," said the tall young chap, waving the broad black hat back upon his head at an angle, "room for some more?"

"Always room for more," said the genial Hannonwell, "what'll you have?"

"Molten hell for those," said the other ally with a wave of his slim hand toward those behind him, "water for me, gentlemen," he included players at the table, who began to rise at the time-honored invitation.

"What did you say, stranger?" asked Hannonwell, a grin beginning to spread on his florid face.

At the young man turned and looked at him, and all the while, all the sparkle, was gone suddenly from his face.

"What, water," Hannonwell, he said evenly, "just plain, cold ordinary water. Suits my particular type of heavy better. Keeps my complexion smooth."

"Pay?" asked Hannonwell.

"If it may,"

Sanchez, out of it, drew up a chair and sat smoking and watching as if he had not now lost the last money bag of dust, dollars and pesos he possessed in the world. A game was a game and he was a born gambler, feeling his lure viciously.

At the table where Brideman played the stranger had taken seat naturally, as if one strong force drew another. As the cut for deal went round these two men looked at each other and a keen observer would have sensed, measuring, an appraising, as if each tested the other's mettle. Corey had joined the second table and Hannonwell the third, while the rest of the original players were about evenly distributed.

Brideman was rich for the day. Whether or not he would be tomorrow was another matter. However, he had but to ride away into the distances which swallowed and disgorged him at fiftal times, to come back again laden to his ears with gold.

And many odd things this man had put up at times when luck went against him—once a wonderful ring of heavy carbon gold which,

upon pressure, shot forth a minute blade.

Brideman had said the steel was poisoned and the gamblers had laughed. Whereupon he had leaned suddenly and touched the cat stretched among the barrels in the warmth of the fire, for it was waiting. The thing was effective, for the creature died promptly and with scarce a quiver.

Sanchez had won the ring, but Brideman had forced him to continue the play for twenty hours, until he won it back.

Again, he had staked the beautiful ivory hand of a sacred statue, got from some know what sucked Mission of the Border, silent sign of the man's depravity. Sanchez had won that, too, and, play as he would, Brideman had never been able to win it back.

Hannonwell's was due that day to see such luck play as it had not seen for years, and it was due to see the breaking of Brideman, a thing which it had never seen.

For it was not long before every man at the table—and at the one adjoining, then subtle glances and keenly cocked ears—knew that Brideman had met his match, his real match, not a spouting victor who won and lost again, such as Corey and Sanchez, but a man who played to him steadily and began to win.

So the day drifted by with sweet winds in from the plain and a high sun that sailed in a cloudless sky, and the stacks of coin before Brideman dwindled, to grow at the stranger's elbow.

"Maybe you're tired," said the young man once, halting a moment, "would you like to rest and begin again later?"

"Quit," Brideman a quiver? Dear them said.

At one o'clock Hannonwell pushed over with a watering hand the last motley heap of gold before him and called for two cards. He had scarcely moved from his chair for twenty-two hours. This was the last deal and it seemed impossible that the run of luck could or would change, and those in the circle drew in closer. So interested were they that none had seen Lolo Sanchez, as she stood for a long time in the door, watching the face of the man opposite Brideman, whose back was toward her.

And as this man called Brideman for the last time and it came to the showdown, while the giant threw his cards upon the cloth with a muttered oath and made as if to push back from the table, the girl pushed hurriedly thru the crowd and laid a hand on his shoulder.

"Broke, Brideman?" she asked softly.

Brideman looked up with his reddened eyes that were full of rage.

"What's it to you?" he asked but.

"Nothing," said Lolo, smiling, "only—if you want another try you can have it."

upon pressure, shot forth a minute blade.

Polpourri of Dancing, Singing and Talking at Faurot

THE week-end program of Keith vaudeville, as presented for the first time Thursday afternoon, is a potpourri of singing, talking and dancing, which offers a meritorious program.

Morton Jewell Four present the first act, which is something different from the usual run of musical acts. It is a beautifully staged and they offer a juggling stunt that is quite clever.

Caits Brothers, who have long been renowned for their clever offerings in vaudeville and big musical productions, offer one of the best acts of the entire bill. That is, if you enjoy good dancing, you will surely think so. They are dancers who really dance and they also offer a line of comedy that is a bit out of the ordinary.

John Alden, author of "La Vedda," "Tomorrow," "If Winter Comes" and many other popular songs, appears in "The Light In the Dark" Is the Sigma's Attraction

CAN you imagine anything more entertaining than Lon Chaney in a crook role? I can't. That is the part he enacts in Hope Hampton's latest starring vehicle, "The Light in the Dark." It is an adaptation of William Dudley Pelley's novel of the same name, and is a beautiful story well produced.

The story deals with the experiences of Bessie MacGregor, a poor Vermont girl who goes to New York to make her living following the death of her parents. She is injured in an automobile accident and taken to the luxurious home of Mrs. Templeton Orrin, where she meets J. Warburton Ashe, who becomes infatuated with the coquettish girl. However, she discovers the insincerity of Ashe and leaves, finding refuge in an East Side tenement. Ashe realizes the wrong he has done and tries to locate the girl but without avail, so decides to forget her. While on a trip abroad, he finds a cup of strange design in an old English forest and brings it back to America. It is this cup that forms the material for the great human drama that has a happy and romantic culmination. Three times it disappears until finally—I won't tell you what finally happens to it.

You will be thrilled with Lon Chaney's characterization of the thief who falls in love also with Miss MacGregor and really proves his love. And your sympathy will be with him to the very end.

E. K. Lincoln and other favorites are seen in addition to Hope Hampton and Lon Chaney. "Summed up "The Light in the Dark" is a rare and entertaining production. It is appearing at the Sigma theatre the remainder of the week.

"Evidence" Is Powerful Screen Vehicle

DEVOTEES of the screen will revel in the new Elaine Hammerstein picture, "Evidence" which opened yesterday at the Lyric theatre. It is a good story well enacted, and equipped with a "surprise finish" to baffle your ideas of how everything will turn out. Niles Welch is the star's leading support. The story concerns an actress who marries into a family of snobs and receives just the treatment that she had anticipated. Facing these unhappy conditions, she is making cleverness on the part of the character Miss Hammerstein represents. "Evidence" is fine screen entertainment and the star's popularity will be greatly enhanced thereby.

"Morocco Bound" Pleasing Show at New Orpheum

"MOROCCO BOUND," the present offering of the "Oh U Baby" company affords Levene and Murray, the two comedians of the show, the opportunity of doing out plenty of laughs. The play is given in seven pretty scenes and the costumes are all new. Specialties are introduced thru the action of the play, and the Poultry contest created many laughs. These extra features are a part of the regular program every Thursday at the New Orpheum and are creating much interest.

Starting Sunday matinee and for one week, Mary Brown's Tropical Maids, a company of 25 people will be the attraction, and by all reports it is to be the best attraction of the season. This show features a comedian who is billed as miniature "Harry Lauder" and advance announcements say he gives the best portrayal of this famous Scotch comedian on the American stage. Until further notice the New Orpheum will play these companies for one week engagements.

Forbes Reports Industrial Growth of Tennessee City

CHIEF ASPIRIN PRODUCER

Leads World in Manufacture of Many Articles

(By E. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK (Special) — Are the big sometimes inclined to regard the little as unimportant? Are metropolitan cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Detroit, St. Louis apt to underestimate the vitally important part played in our national life by smaller cities and towns and communities? The fact is, of course, that these smaller places constitute the very backbone of our commonwealth.

I suggested some little time ago that it might be useful and educative to present occasionally in this column authoritative fact and facts describing conditions in different parts of the country. The response showed clearly that such information would be welcomed.

I wonder if Northerners grasp the full extent of the regeneration under way through the South? I wonder if we realize adequately the remarkable progress industrially made by our fellow-citizens in the South? I wonder, too, if the measure of the recovery that has been going on during the last year in the South has been fully understood by the rest of our people?

Let me today tell you something about the status and the progress of one Southern city, Memphis, Tennessee, and ask you to visualize the similar advancement made by many other Southern centers.

It will probably astonish you to know that this Mississippi river city of 190,000 souls leads the world in these fields:

- Largest manufacturer of cotton seed products.
- Largest output of knocked down automobile wheels.
- Largest producer of high-grade veneers.
- Country's chief producer of aspirin.
- Largest producing point for mixed feeds.
- Largest hardwood lumber market in the world.

Memphis shows a gain of 22 per cent in the value of its manufactured products during the last five years, the total now reaching $117,717,523.

Favored geographically and blessed with an abundance of raw materials at its doors, Memphis now has a total of 450 manufacturing establishments, employing 32,500 wage earners, one-third of them skilled workmen. These plants represent a capital investment of $67,107,494. Twenty-four factories each turn out every year products valued at $1,000,000 or more.

The principal manufactures of this Tennessee city are cotton seed oil cake, lumber and timber products, carriages and wagons, bread and bakery products, patent medicines and drug preparations, mill preparations, flour and grain, mill products, furniture and spring beds, saddlery and harness, paints, automobile bodies and parts, bags, railway cars, cooperage, furniture, snuff and tobacco products, screens, coffins, agricultural implements, artificial limbs, awnings and tents, boxes and cartons, chemicals, clothing, fertilizer and dental goods.

In the heart of the greatest hardwood timber area in America, Memphis has 28 lumber mills which produce annually 300,000,000 feet of lumber. The railroads give transit arrangements whereby rough lumber may be shipped in for drying, storage, or to be finished, and then shipped on to destination within six months on a thru rate from point of origin.

The largest plant in the world making knocked-down auto wheels is located in Memphis. Its daily output is 1,600 wheels.

Thirteen cotton seed oil mills crush an average of 100,000 tons of cotton seed a year. They manufacture oil, meal, cake, hulls and linters. Here again, raw material is plentiful, Memphis being in the heart of the cotton belt. Four companies are engaged in the refining of oil and the making of compound lard, cooking oils, soap stocks and even by-products.

Demand for mixed feeds has opened up a new field for manufacture in the south, and twelve companies are engaged in this line at Memphis. The manufacturers buy peas, corn, clover, soy beans and other food crops locally and bring in black strap molasses by barge from Cuba. The annual output of mixed feed is estimated at 350,000 tons, worth $20,000,000.

Rated as the largest drug maker in the south, Memphis produces annually $4,000,000 of pharmaceutical supplies. This includes about 70 per cent of the aspirin consumed in the United States.

The largest plant south of Chicago for manufacturing railroad and highway bridges and aqueducts, railroad turn-tables and structural materials for sugar factories, cotton seed storage houses and office buildings is located at Memphis. So are the largest cracker and factory south of the Ohio river, the largest cotton seed oil mill in the world, and a huge snuff factory.

The principal fuel is bituminous coal, brought in by rail and barge from Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee and Illinois. Artificial gas, crude oil and cordwood also are available in large quantities.

A movement is now under way to

SHORT SHAVINGS

Column of Anecdotes About Home Folks

What is the funniest experience that ever happened to you? Write it out briefly and send it to the Short Shavings Editor of The Lima News. For the best contributed Short Shavings published in the week The News will pay $1. Full names and address must be signed.

A little girl spent the night with me one time, Ethel C. Lott, 1223 Laurel-st., writes, and when it was time to retire she knelt at my knee to say her prayers, expecting the usual prompting, apparently. This not being forthcoming, the child said, "Please God, excuse me, I can't remember my prayers and I'm staying with a lady that don't know any."

Ruth Schaefer, 1100 W. High-st., says a friend related to her an unusual experience, thus: "While I was stopping at a hotel in another city I left a six o'clock call. The following morning I was awakened by the phone bell. I answered and the clerk said, 'Five-thirty.' 'I told the clerk I had not left a call for 6:30, but 6:00.' 'Oh, then it's six o'clock,' the clerk said. I really wondered just what time it was anyway."

Pete Hoover placed his Cole auto away for the winter and asked a friend if it was proper to call the garage a coal shed. R. E. Silvey, of the Hoover-Roush company, reports.

Gertrude Ward, 225 N. Pine-st., tells of a little neighbor girl who informed her mother she did not intend to go to school the next day. "And why not," asked the mother, "Because it's Saturday."

Location of the Allen-co. courthouse has not been changed, declares Bill Lyons, P. T. Wayne, Van Wert & Lima traction company conductor.

Bill was collecting fares on one of the company's cars when a man stepped from the smoking compartment as the car rolled into Elida.

"Is this where you get off to reach the courthouse?" he asked. The question was audible to the passengers, who waited in silence. There was a moment's hesitation, and then—

"Naw, we ain't got them things around here."

A passenger, about to board Bill's car, had taken the question unto himself and answered it adequately and to the satisfaction of the courthouse-seeking traveler.

Every eye in the car, including Bill's pair, swept from the stranger to the courthouse when the car hove to opposite the Allen-co. administration building in Lima.

Name of Wilbur Ditto, Delphos city councilman, is handy in seconding motions made by his fellow legislators.

Some interesting situations have been framed by members, as for instance in reading a motion the clerk might say "Motion by So-and-So dittoed by Ditto."

Also, if it were not for carrying out formality of council, Wilbur might say "Ditto" instead of "I second the motion."

But, anyway, names is names, says Wilbur.

"While serving as deputy surveyor in Mercer-co. at Celina," writes Loren L. Marsh, 953 N. Elizabeth-st., "I had occasion one cold winter day to accompany the county commissioners to view a ditch."

"One of the commissioners was an old-time German, whose English vocabulary was somewhat limited. The main petitioner on the improvement invited us to his home for dinner and as we started to devour the homesteader's feast, the German commissioner reached with his knife to cut off a piece of butter. The butter was cold and hard and the piece he cut off slipped from the plate to the table cloth.

"He said, 'Well, the better's a little stout.' Noticing our smiles, he hurried out, 'Well, I mean it's rather strong.'"

"While working for the Buckeye Pipe Line company," N. J. Barnes, 535 S. Elizabeth-st., writes, "Rosa Matthews told me of an offer a Mr. Woods, another workman, had been given to work on a farm by the year. He was to receive, he said, in addition to wages, house rent free and 'all the butter and eggs from two cows.'"

"My son Earl is a Lima News street salesman now," writes Berl Cohn, 266 W. Elm-st. "When he was about three years old he was playing with a toy one evening when I arrived home. I gave him two pennies. A little later he banged the toy. Fearing he would break it, I said, 'Earl, haven't you got any sense?'"

"He answered, 'Yes, daddy, I have got the two pennies you gave me!'"

"Bert Crosson asked a friend one day about his wife's health," G. B. Maeks, 339 S. Pine-st., reports. "She's better," said the husband. "She was threatened with pneumonia on the lungs, but the doctor says it's only information of the diagram."

W. D. Churchill, 623 N. Main-st., reports he asked a friend, the owner of a Ford, why more comfortable seats are not provided in the auto of that make, since it is a desirable car in other respects.

"What's the use," said the Ford owner, "you are on the seat only half the time anyway."

Gerald Meyers, Lafayette R. D. 2, tells that one night one of his friends, a Ford sales agent, was visiting at the home of Gerald's grandfather, a few miles east of Lima, on the Harding highway.

"He sat around for some time," Meyers says, "and finally went to a window and peered out, to see if his car was still there. He couldn't see it and became excited, believing the auto had been stolen. Returning to what he supposed was a window, he found he had been looking into a mirror."
